Expects to Receive Bipartisan Support From Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—A new economic resources survey for the upper Wisconsin timber and tourist country probably will be one of the keynotes of Gov. Elect Gaylord Nelson's legislative program as he lays it before the legislature soon after that body convenes in mid-January.

Such a plan should gather considerable support of a bipartisan kind, since Nelson and his Republican rival, Gov. Vernon W. Thompson, talked in similar terms about their aspirations for the north country during the fall campaign for votes.

Both proposed the creation of a special division of the state division of industrial development, that would be charged with studies of the economic potential of the 27 northern counties, and the promotion of economic expansion there.

Explore Idea
Since the campaign Nelson has been exploring the idea with economists and other specialists of the University of Wisconsin faculty, it has been reported here. He is likely to tie his proposals for northern Wisconsin economic studies to another aim — a closer state government liaison in general with the investigative and other resources of the university's specialized departments.

Like Gov. Thomson, Nelson has endorsed the idea of a thoroughgoing study of tourism as an economic factor in

Ogden Reid and Family Flee Fire

Back Bay, Va.—Ogden Reid, editorial director of the New York Herald Tribune, fled to safety with his wife and three children yesterday as flames swept through the roof of his isolated hunting lodge.

No damage estimate was given but Assistant Fire Chief Clyde Freeman of Creeds said it "would cost at least $75,000 to build a place like that." Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Volunteer firemen from Creeds and Princess Anne County County House put out the blaze. Much of the lodge's furnishings were also saved.

The Reids, unharmed, drove to New York yesterday.

Quits as Assistant Secretary of Navy

Washington—The resignation of J. Sinclair Armstrong as assistant secretary of the navy, effective Jan. 2, was accepted by President Eisenhower today "with deep regret."

In a letter of resignation, Armstrong gave personal reasons for wishing to leave the post. He has served in the Eisenhower administration for five years, four of them with the securities and exchange commission as a member and chairman.

Eisenhower wrote Armstrong that he had "played a significant role in the work of your government." He expressed appreciation for "this record of distinguished service and for the valuable contribution you have made."

Goldfine Gets Jail Sentence For Contempt

Boston — Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine and his secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, were given jail terms in federal court today for criminal contempt in failure to furnish tax men with full records of Goldfine textile mills.

Goldfine was ordered to serve three months, and Miss Paperman, 10 days. Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr., who convicted them last Friday passed sentence. Sentences will start Jan. 7.

In a separate action immediately afterward, the two were fined on civil contempt charges brought by the security and exchange commission.

Didn't File Reports
Judge Wyzanski fined Goldfine $1,500 and Miss Paperman, $500. Alwyn Jealous, an officer of Goldfine's East Boston Co., a realty firm, was also fined $500. All were charged with failing to file required reports with the SEC.

Judge Wyzanski told Miss Paperman it was very difficult to deal with a woman offender and particularly a woman employee.

Wyzanski said he based his decision on the fact that Goldfine and Miss Paperman were "intimate with tribunal proceedings and were well aware of the penalties for flouting the authority of his court."

The judge added that both defendants had much prior court experience. He cited their appearance before a con-

Strikes Hit Holiday Travel

Airlines Grounded
During Peak Season

By The Associated Press

A thick fog of labor troubles hung over holiday air travel today.

Strikes kept the giant fleets of American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines on the ground during the peak season of air travel.

Railroads and buses, already loaded with holiday travelers, reported a land-of-ice business. Long waiting lists formed at other airlines.

The New York City post office said the airmail service in and out of the metropolitan area has not been hampered by the strike situation. Other airlines are handling the mail usually assigned to American and Eastern.

No Early Agreement

A pilots' walkout at midnight Friday grounded American. Eastern had been idled since Nov. 24 by a strike of mechanics and flight engineers.

A breakthrough in deadlocked contract negotiations does not appear likely soon.

Couple's Six Children Die While Trying to Escape Fire

This is where six children died early Sunday morning as they vainly tried to flee from flames that burned out the first floor of their home. At left, Kaukauna firemen wrestle a ladder into position to get to the second floor, where the children's bedrooms were and where the children were thought to be. Visible to the right of the firemen is the living room door, one of two blocked by flames as the children, aged 1½ to 7, tried to flee. At right is the inside of the bathroom in which five of the children were found. A sixth was lying outside the door. The bathroom was not damaged by flames. All the children suffocated in the smoke and intense heat. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weyenberg, 1129 Harrison street, have no other children.

Vainly Sought Refuge in Bathroom as Parents Were Attending Nearby Services

BY EDWARD VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Kaukauna — Six terrified children early Sunday morning vainly tried to flee as fire burned out their home. They died as they sought refuge in a first floor bathroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weyenberg returned from 5 a. m. mass at nearby Holy Cross Catholic church to find firemen battling flames at their home at 1129 Harrison street. Weyenberg was restrained from climbing a ladder to the second floor children's bedrooms as his wife screamed, "I want to go in and die with my children."

The children are Lynn, 7; Douglas, 6; Margaret, 5; John, 3; Barbara, 2½; and Michael, 1½. The Weyenbergs, both 30, have no other children.

70 Killed in Bus Tragedy

Speeding Vehicle
Plunges Into Ravine
In Southern Mexico

Oaxaca, Mexico — A speeding bus plunged into a ravine near here, killing 70 persons yesterday, one of Mexico's worst highway accidents.

The only two survivors were critically injured.

The bus was crammed with villagers returning to San Dionisio from Sunday market day at nearby Tlacolula. It had a legal capacity of 40, but people were riding on top and on the rear bumper and hanging from the doors.

The driver apparently lost control on a curve and ran off the road near this tropical city in southern Mexico.

The bus was traveling at a good speed with its passengers in a singing holiday mood on their way home from a day's outing.

A sudden lurch and then a plunge into a deep ravine sent those clinging to the outside of the bus flying in all directions. Bodies were scattered over 100 square yards.

Word of the tragedy quickly reached San Dionisio and crowds rushed to the scene looking for relatives and friends.

2 Known Dead in Montreal Fire

Montreal, Quebec — An explosion and fire demolished a duplex tenement in Montreal's east end today.

The bodies of two children were found in the ruins, and firemen said they feared two or three other persons had been trapped in the brick and wood building.

At least four persons were taken to the hospital suffering burns. One woman was reported in serious condition.

The cause of the explosion was not known. It was reported to have occurred in one of the apartments.

False Hope

Weyenberg was given a heart-rending false sense of hope when one off-duty fireman recalled seeing the city's ambulance while on his way to the fire. Weyenberg rushed from his home to the hospital, thinking that perhaps his children had been hospitalized. However, the ambulance had answered a call to another home about 5:30, and Weyenberg found no trace of his children at the hospital.

When firemen arrived at the home, they found flames leaping about 10 feet above the single story portion of the home containing the living room and parents' bedroom.

The home had two doors, accessible only through the kitchen and living room.

Living Room
Evidence of charring and extreme damage led Earl Schwabe, deputy state fire marshal, to indicate the fire started in the living room, possibly from a defective outlet or lamp cord.

The parents told Fire Chief William Haupt they had left a lamp on in the living room. Near this area were the nearly unrecognizable remains of

Brooklyn Bank, Pawnshop Looted By Bandit Gangs

New York — Gunmen staged two bold holdups today in widely separated parts of Brooklyn, making off with $31,000 in cash from a bank and $35,000 worth of merchandise from a pawnshop.

The two robberies apparently were not related. Each occurred just as the places opened for the day's business.

"Stay alive for Christmas—open the door and turn off the Holmes" Pawnshop operator Nat Tangle told police bandits gave him that order as he unlocked his shop.

They followed him in, and made sure he had turned off the Holmes burglar alarm. After forcing him to open the safe, the men tied him up with a rope. Then they filled two duffel bags and two suitcases with loot.

The robbery took place about 15 miles away from the bank holdup.

Three four gunmen walked in as two clerks were opening the vault, herded customers and employees into the center of the floor.

Officials of the bank estimated afterward they got $31,000.

De Gaulle Wins Presidency Of Fifth French Republic

Successor to Rene Coty to Have Much Greater Powers

BY HARVEY HUDSON

Paris — Premier Charles de Gaulle's bandwagon rolled on in France yesterday with his third personal voting victory. As expected, members of the electoral college overwhelmingly elected him the first president of the fifth republic.

The 68-year-old wartime hero, who stepped aside as premier in 1946 rather than play second fiddle to the national assembly, now can assume the presidency for a 7-year term with greatly increased powers. He will take over the office from 76-year-old Rene Coty Jan. 8.

The "rule by assembly" of the fourth republic collapsed just as De Gaulle had predicted. Under special powers granted him to reform the French state after the revolt last May, De Gaulle wrote a new constitution with a strong executive.

His first victory came when the new constitution was approved by an 80 per cent vote in a September election.

In November, a new national assembly was elected with a preponderance of De Gaulle followers.

In yesterday's presidential election De Gaulle got 78.5 per cent of the valid ballots of the grand electors, an electoral college representing the French mainland and overseas territories.

De Gaulle did not vote or take part in the election. As premier he did not belong to any category of the grand electors, made up of mayors, senators and members of parliament.

Janesville Baker Robbed of $1,600

Janesville — A robber concealed himself in the back of a bakery operator's panel truck Sunday night, forced the baker at gunpoint to drive him into the country and robbed him of $1,600.

Robert Hiller told police he left his bakery with the weekend receipts at 11:30 p. m., planning to take the cash to a bank. After he drove a block east of town the man took his $1,600 and then ordered Hiller to drive to a point south of the city.

Hiller finally was ordered to stop and they were met by two other men in a car. The trio drove off in the auto.

First Attempt to Fire Titan Proves Failure

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — The first attempt to fire a Titan, the nation's newest war rocket, has failed, but today the launching crew prepared for another shot in the near future.

Titan, the first of the nation's so-called second generation missiles, spurted a flash of flame when the first stage engine ignited Saturday, but seconds later it sputtered out when a malfunction occurred. The trouble apparently was caused by a fuel line hose that burst as the engine roared into action.

This was the first attempt to launch the Titan, a 90-foot two-stage intercontinental range ballistic missile which is being developed for combat use.

Bleak Christmas

Fox River Valley Opens Its Heart to Grief-Stricken Couple

Kaukauna — A stunned community early Sunday morning extended its heart to the bereaved Floyd Weyenbergs and died in and near the bathroom. Tragedy has struck the young couple — both are 30 — twice within a year. Infant twins died shortly after birth earlier this year.

Weyenberg is a pipefitter at Thilmany Pulp and Paper company. He and his wife moved into their home about five years ago and remodeled it in 1957. Weyenberg repaired the house at that time. The home was built in 1890.

Estimated damage was $12,250, including $4,000 to contents of the home, firemen said.

In the early Sunday morning cold, about 30 neighbors and passers-by who had seen the flames gathered in small groups as firemen searched the first floor of their home at 1129 Harrison street. Their children, ranging from 1½ to

When the Weyenbergs arrived, they found firemen fighting the blaze and had to be restrained from rushing into the home. The parents were taken indoors at the home of William Weyenberg, next door, where the father's uncle lives.

The uncle had attempted to get into the upper bedroom before firemen arrived, but a sheet of flame barred his way after he broke the window. He then opened the back door and called to the children—receiving no answer.

Identifies Children
As he opened the rear door, a wall of flame shot into the kitchen from the living room, the uncle said.

After firemen found the children—five huddled in the bathroom and a sixth lying just outside the door — the spectators stood in shocked silence.

Weyenberg identified the six small bodies as his children, then was taken to the hospital.

State Highway Death Toll Climbs to 793

Green Bay and Neopit Men Are Latest Victims

Milwaukee —(AP)— Eight persons, including a 4-year-old boy, died during the weekend as a result of traffic accidents, raising Wisconsin's 1958 highway death toll to 793, compared with 894 on this day a year ago.

Carl Waupoose, 32, of Neopit was killed Sunday night when his car missed a curve on Highway 47, about 2 1/2 miles northwest of the village.

Third Victim

Isadore John, 59, of Green Bay died in a Green Bay hospital last night, third victim of a Shawano county collision Dec. 16. Also killed in that crash was Byron R. Krahlow, 34, route 1, Black Creek and Mrs. Evelyn M. John, West DePere.

Leo Duffrin IV, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Duffrin III, Pewaukee, and Mrs. Agnes Burroughs, 63, Wauwatosa, lost their lives Saturday when an auto and a panel truck collided in Pewaukee on Highway 30. Mrs. Burroughs, an auto passenger, was dead at the scene. The boy, riding in the truck, died early Sunday at a Waukesha hospital.

Fond du Lac Woman

Mrs. Harriet Mueller, 58, Fond du Lac, was killed late Saturday when a truck and her husband's auto collided at an intersection on the north side of Fond du Lac.

Mrs. Luella Westphal, 49, New London, was killed before dawn Saturday when an auto crashed on an Outagamie county road six miles north-east of Hortonville.

John Christian, 54, who farmed near Butternut in Ashland county died Friday night when his auto was struck by a Soo Line train at a crossing in Butternut.

Robert N. Gerbitz, 31, Milwaukee, was killed Friday night when an auto struck a tree beside Waukesha county Highway E near North Lake.

Mentally Ill Patients to Get Yule Presents

La Crosse —(AP)— Fourteen hundred personalized Christmas gifts will go to mentally ill patients in five state of Wisconsin institutions under a project of the women's auxiliary, Medical Society of Wisconsin.

The gifts are going to "forgotten patients" in state hospitals who have had no contacts with relatives or friends in the past two years. Presents range from a toy rubber doll to clothing to a guitar.

Institutions benefiting are Winnebago, Waupun and Mendota State hospitals and the Northern and Southern Colonies. Institutional personnel select gifts by name and type and auxiliary personnel then are contacted.

Radio Operators Fail To Contact Balloon Sailing Over Atlantic

London —(AP)— Radio amateurs throughout western Europe and north Africa failed during the weekend to pick up any message from four Britons trying to sail across the Atlantic in a balloon.

Nothing has been heard from the balloon, the Small World, since Friday. And even then the craft's radio operator, Tim Eliott, failed to give his position.

The three men and one woman set off 10 days ago from the Canary Islands to drift with the trade winds 3,000 miles to Barbados, in the West Indies.

The last reported position of the 46-foot silver and black balloon was about 250 miles south of the Canaries. That was seven days ago, when a German freighter spotted the Small World. Since then it has not been seen.

Find Battered Body Of California Woman

Police Fit Pieces of Plot They Say Led to Killing of Mrs. Olga Duncan

Ventura, Calif. —(AP)— Police fitted the pieces today of a plot they said led to the brutal killing of attractive Olga Duncan, whose bruised body was found in a shallow grave beside a lonely road.

An itinerant laborer, with a local police record, climaxed his tale of what he said was a hired slaying by leading officers yesterday to her hand-scooped grave.

Augustine Baldonado, 25, said in statement that the dead woman's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, hired him and Luis Moya, 22, to kill 5-months-pregnant Olga Duncan for $6,000.

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan

Investigators said the 30-year-old victim may have been buried alive. They quoted Baldonado: "I don't know. We strangled her, and I think we killed her before we put her in the ground."

One officer called it "the most cold-blooded crime I've ever heard of."

Missing Since Nov. 18

The victim, a surgical nurse, has been missing since Nov. 18. She was the estranged wife of Santa Barbara Lawyer Frank Duncan. They separated only two weeks after their marriage last June.

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson said jealousy of the older woman toward her daughter-in-law was the major motive.

Investigators said two additional arrests might be made in the case, but would give no clue as to the identity of the individuals.

Coroner Virgil L. Payton, meantime, indicated that because the murdered nurse was carrying a child of more than five months development, the case very possibly would be considered a double homicide.

Less than four months before her death, the dead woman had written her mother, Mrs. Jessie Kupczyk of Benito, Manitoba, that Mrs. Duncan held "an uncanny hold" over her son. She said she planned an annulment.

Moya, who has denied knowledge of the slaying, was described by Santa Barbara sheriff John Ross as badly shaken upon learning of Baldonado's statement.

"How could he say that?" Moya asked. "Believe me... believe me!"

Mrs. Duncan, too, has insisted she knows nothing of

Locate Box of Shells in Creek Near Kenosha

Authorities Say They Are Type Which Killed Tavern Owner

Kenosha —(AP)— Authorities said today they will again question two men and a woman about the slaying of night club operator Arthur Molinaro.

Married 5 Times

Police say Mrs. Duncan has been married five times in eight years. She is charged with posing in court here as her son's wife, along with a paid confederate, to obtain a fraudulent annulment of her son's marriage last August.

It was the discovery of the spurious annulment, authorities say, that caused them to begin an intensive search for the missing daughter-in-law.

Charges are on file at Santa Barbara accusing Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado of conspiring to kidnap and murder Olga Duncan. They are held in lieu of $100,000 bail apiece.

Gustafson said he intends to present murder charges against all three to the grand jury in Ventura on Friday.

Bookkeeper Accused Of Embezzling From His Second Employer

Philadelphia —(AP)— A 35-year-old bookkeeper has been accused of embezzling money from his latest employer while paying off installments on a 1957 embezzlement.

Herman Konchin of Philadelphia was arrested yesterday on larceny and embezzlement charges.

He was picked up in the furniture store where he had worked for eight weeks. His car was parked outside, and in it, police said, was $2,000 in cash and $1,000 in checks made out to the store.

The owner of the store, Simon Richman, said he asked detectives to investigate when he heard that Konchin was planning to leave the city. The bookkeeper is married and has two children.

In 1957 Konchin was arrested on a charge of embezzling $18,000 from an automobile dealer for whom he worked. A $7,500 settlement was made, authorities said, and Konchin was paying it off at $10 a week.

He was held in $5,000 bail for a court hearing.

Resistance to Reds in Tibet Gains Strength, Nationalists Declare

Sources Say Situation So Serious Defense Minister Has Been Called

Taipei —(AP)— The resistance movements in Tibet and neighboring Chinese provinces are gaining strength, Nationalist intelligence sources claimed today.

In some areas, they asserted, rebels had for a time occupied key positions and forced communist troops to take temporary refuge in mountains.

The sources said the situation had become so serious that Marshal Peng Teh-huai, red China's defense minister, had gone to Tsinshai, on Tibet's northeast border, in October to direct operations against the rebels.

They claimed that Peng's trip coincided with the ceasefire he proclaimed in the Quemoay area Oct. 6. This last 13 out of 21 scheduled days.

Movement Spreading
The resistance movement was said to be spreading toward the border of Outer Mongolia.

Refugees who reached India last month were quoted as saying that Nationalist flags were being flown openly in the border area between the provinces of Sikkim and Tsinshai.

Reports from Nationalist underground agents were said to have included these details:

A big anti-communist demonstration was staged in Lhasa, capital of Tibet, in late April.

A force of more than 6,000 rebels, clashed with communist troops northwest of Lhasa Aug. 30 and killed about 500, themselves losing only 17 killed and 6 captured.

Two Engagements
The rebels also had two engagements with communist troops of battalion strength, one in September, the other in October.

Attacks by rebels have forced the reds to resort to strong armed escorts on the Tibet-India road.

In April rebels attacked seven villages in Sikkim. They ambushed and killed the chief communist party official of Chiangta county in June.

Rebels occupied Yushu county in southern Sikkim June 8 and did not withdraw until heavy red forces were thrown against them.

In an uprising at Lanchien, in Tsinshai province, rebels burned the communist bank, salt and trade bureaus and disarmed some communist troops.

Warning of U.S. Called Nonsense By East Germans
Berlin —(AP)— Communist East Germany today described as nonsense a U.S. warning Russia might endanger its legal right to occupy much of East Germany by trying to force the allies out of Berlin.

Neues Deutschland, the official communist party organ, said neither the U.S. warning nor anything else is going to stop the Soviet Union from giving East Germany control over allied supply routes to West Berlin.

The situation in Germany is now that the U.S.A. isn't making the decisions alone," the newspaper said.

A U.S. state department memorandum Saturday reminded the Russians that the U.S. army once occupied much of what is now part of East Germany. This territory was turned over to the Russians, when the United States, France and Britain got the western portion of Berlin, which had been conquered by the Russians.

Census Figures Show More Large Families

The larger family represents a greater percentage of the nation's family structure now than 10 years ago, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

Analysis of U. S. Bureau of the Census figures shows that families with two or more children under 18 living at home made up more than four out of every five of the total increase in the number of families between the spring of 1948 and March of this year, the institute said.

Families with three or more children showed a greater growth in both number and proportion during this period than all the other families put together.

More Saving

"This development, with its inevitable increase in financial responsibility, has had a significant impact on the economy in the market for all kinds of products," the institute said.

"The larger family has likewise emphasized the need for more saving and more protection for the breadwinner to meet increased family responsibilities. This is particularly evident in the big growth of life insurance ownership in recent years. Life insurance protection in force now exceeds $400 billions, nearly 2 1/2 times the total outstanding a decade ago.

"The bureau of the census reports that the total number of families increased from 37 3 million in 1948 to 43 7 million in March of this year, a rise of 6.4 million or 17 per cent. Here is how this increase breaks down by family size based on the number of children under 18 living at home:

"The number of families with no children under 18 rose from 18 million in 1948 to 19 2 million in March this year, an increase of 1 2 million or 7 per cent. The growth of the older population is discernible here.

"Families with one child at home in this age range showed only a nominal change, amounting to just under 8 1 million in 1948 and just over that figure this year.

"The number of families with two children under 18 increased from 6 million to 7.9 million in the 1948-58 period, a rise of 1.9 million or 32 per cent.

3-Children Families

"Families with three children under 18 expanded by over two-thirds, increasing from 2.7 million in 1948 to more than 4.5 million in March this year, a gain of 1.8 million or 70 per cent.

"The number of families with four or more children under 18 at home scored the second biggest percentage gain, increasing from 2.5 million to almost 4 million in the decade, a rise of 1.5 million or 60 per cent. According to the Census Bureau, there are approximately 20 million children under 18 in the homes of families of this classification, or a third of all the children in the country in this age group.

"As a result of this trend, families with two or more children under 18 at home represented 37.5 per cent of all the families in the nation in March of this year as against 30 per cent a decade earlier.

"An interesting aspect of the trend of the 1948-58 decade is that the increase in the number of children per family was far greater among non-farm than farm families. This was particularly evident in the rate of growth of families with four or more children."

State Schools to Need $88,237,800 by '63

Estimates Predict Over $105,000,000 Will be Necessary Between '63 and '73

Madison — Building projects totaling $88,237,800 will be needed to expand Wisconsin State colleges and University of Wisconsin facilities by 1963 and more than $105,000,000 more will be needed between 1963 and 1973, according to estimates presented to the coordinating committee for higher education, meeting on the university campus.

A joint staff study said conservative estimates call for the present 38,000 day students in the university and state colleges to increase by 21,000 by 1963 and to expand another 22,000 by 1973. The study warned that the ratio of the state's college-age population to enrollment at each institution has shown a steady increase, and future enrollments may be much higher than the estimates.

A breakdown of the needs by 1963 showed $54,231,880 in buildings for the UW at Madison, $13,651,490 for UW-Milwaukee, and $34,005,920 for state colleges. The computation considered present facilities, buildings costing $15,600,000 due to be completed by 1963, remodeling costs, land, and replacement of obsolete structures.

Use Formula
The joint staff formula was based on a current gross area cost of $25 per square foot or $40 per square foot of "assignable" area — that is, space actually used for instructional purposes. Space per student was set at 84 square feet for the UW at Madison, 66 for state colleges, and 63 for UW-Milwaukee. Specialized offerings, such as engineering, home economics, industrial arts and agriculture, normally require more space, the staff explained.

The Wisconsin institutions rank favorably with other colleges in the nation in utilization of present facilities, the staff reported. The Wisconsin institutions rank in the upper 30 per cent of the nation in classroom period utilization, in the upper 50 per cent in classroom student-station utilization, in the upper 20 per cent in laboratory period utilization, and in the upper 30 per cent in laboratory student-station utilization.

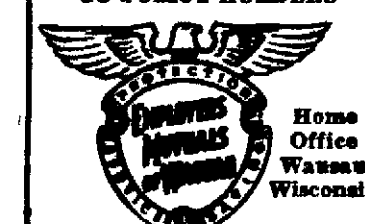

The coordinating committee has recommended that classrooms be used an average of 30 periods per week with 67 per cent of the stations occupied; laboratories should be used 24 periods per week with 80 per cent utilization; and 120 square feet per full-time occupant should be provided for office space. The study reported the Wisconsin institutions "are very likely meeting these standards or will do so before additional space can be provided."

The Bomb Hoaxes

After the schools of Appleton and Winnebago county were closed Friday because of bomb threats there was considerable debate throughout the area over whether the authorities had acted wisely. Typical of the arguments of those who criticized the decision was, "Supposing someone calls and says there is a bomb in a school somewhere in Wisconsin. What'll they do, close all the schools in the state?" Representing opposing view was the comment of a professional man who thought the question over carefully, then said, "I think they were right to close the schools. Sure, I'd bet 100 to 1 that it was a hoax. But I want my kids to have better odds than 100 to 1."

After some reflection, we agree with the latter gentleman. The police and school authorities were on a terrible spot; they knew the odds were great — perhaps greater than 100 to 1 — that there were no bombs, but suppose they kept the schools open and a bomb did explode, ripping little bodies to shreds because these men took a chance? If there are scores of adults and/or juveniles in Wisconsin whose minds are twisted enough to cause them to make these fake bomb threats, there just might be one even more twisted, and that one might plant a real bomb.

We suppose there exists within every youngster a deep-seated desire to be a prankster. It has something to do with the fact that young people are constantly being ordered about, told what to do and what not to do; there is a thrill in thumbing one's nose at the adult world, and causing adults trouble and worry and expense. This has been recognized throughout history and many customs — especially those centering around Halloween — have grown up with the idea of giving the kids a chance to satisfy this urge in a harmless way. The problem, of course, is that this sort of thing sometimes gets out of hand; the rebellion becomes real instead of playful, and then we have a serious situation such as we have now with the bomb hoaxes.

Bulganin's 'Confession'

Now comes Nikolai Bulganin, of late prime minister of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, to confess his sins against communism. These days that means sins against Khrushchevism, just as in an earlier day it meant against Stalinism, and before that against Leninism.

Bulganin's humiliation has been made as deep as that of any communist who has ever put his right foot forward when those in control — or who were to be in control — were leading with the left. The fact that only a short while ago he held the office of chief of state of the mother communist country has not permitted him to be spared. In the communist world the slightest heresy, deviation from or rebellion against the dictatorship must be punished quickly, brutally and completely. Stalin used the firing squad but Khrushchev — perhaps even more of a sadist — prefers the public confession, a sort of self-flagellation.

Who can forget the forays of "B and K" — meaning Bulganin and Khrushchev — a couple of years ago to England, India, Red China and Yugoslavia; the parties and toasts and the chumminess they exhibited? Yet today Bulganin stands up in a meeting of the communist party central committee and says that all the while he was leading an "anti-party group," was scheming against the very regime he headed. He uses

Fountain of Youth

One of the most intensive campaigns ever conducted by man has been his relentless pursuit of a "fountain of youth." There is reason to believe that now he is approaching his goal.

A recent announcement by a Harvard scientist indicates a substance has been discovered to keep insects from developing normally. This substance, it was said, may be useful in studying the aging process of humans.

Taken at first glance this may not seem of great significance. But consider it for a moment. If the normal development of an insect can be retarded, it follows that science is not far away from discovering how to halt the aging process in humans.

Latin America Gets Just Generalities From U. S.

From The Phoenix, A. S. Republic

When the foreign ministers of the 21 American nations got together to discuss a meeting on Latin American economic problems, Mexican Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo said, "All our peoples are waiting for concrete results. We have had enough of general declarations of principles."

When the economic conference had ended some weeks later, a Brazilian delegate bitterly sighed, "More of the same old thing."

Latin America is generally in a mess. Argentina is somewhere between a fit and total collapse. Brazil is stricken with galloping inflation. Chile's money is going down like her lead. Everybody in South America has problems and they want help. In fact they are desperate for help and will snatch at any straw regardless of whether the straw is red, white, and blue or just red. The Soviet Union is busy engaged in offering all kinds of "deals" to South American nations. The U. S. is busy giving money to Tito and the Czechs.

Latin Americans don't want money given them. They want money with which to do business. They are in the same position as a growing business community that There is only one solution, as we see it, and that is the meting out of punishment — stiff, even harsh punishment — to the perpetrators who have been or will be caught. The persons, juvenile or adult, who placed those telephone calls have committed a serious crime; they have interfered with education, they have caused untold worry and hours of arduous labor for police and school officials, they have cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars in lost school time and in extra work for policemen and firemen and others. The punishment should fit the crime; the criminals, if caught, should be made to pay these costs (if they are juveniles, their parents should pay), and they should receive jail sentences as well. We do not think the communities affected are in a mood to tolerate any wishy-washy treatment of these people.

The bomb hoax seems to offer the juvenile — or juvenile-minded adult — the perfect chance to satisfy his prankster urge since all he has to do is stop at a public telephone, drop in a dime and place his call. The only answer to that is for the police to somehow make it less of a sure thing; they must work with the telephone company so that calls can be traced quickly, they must ask cooperation of citizens in taverns, drugstores and similar places that have public telephones (an alert observer might catch a hoaxer in the act), they must keep an eye on the booths the telephone company has placed at such convenient places around town. They must be ready to pounce quickly, and when the police have done their job we hope the prosecutors and courts will be ready to do theirs.

Appleton learned this year that Halloween vandalism — which, like the bomb hoaxes, is essentially juvenile pranksterism gone wild — can be stopped by firmness on the part of law enforcement officials. The bomb hoaxers can be, and must be, controlled the same way.

such words as "criminal activities," "rottenness," "fractionary work" to describe the activities of himself and his fellow conspirators. And, in true communist style, he then turns on those who worked with him, describes Molotov as a "man estranged from life and the people," Kaganovich as a man "who occupied himself with hindering work by his long and confused speeches," Malenkov as "an intriguer, capable of any dirty trick or any abomination." Let us remember that Malenkov succeeded Stalin as premier, Molotov was Russia's long-time foreign minister under both Stalin and Malenkov, Kaganovich served as first deputy premier. Another former foreign minister, Dmitri Shepilov, also was implicated by Bulganin.

Thus one more round in the never-ending story of intrigue and power struggles in the Kremlin is played out in all its sordidness and weary repetition. Once more the "communist" dictatorship is revealed to be just another totalitarian regime which, like all such regimes in history, has not, cannot and never will solve the terrible problem of the succession. Yet this is a system of government with which we are told we must "coexist"; which Walter Lippmann insists is going to last a thousand years, alongside free governments as Christianity and Islam have coexisted!

Think of what it would mean for a man to take a shot in the arm, a pill, or a swallow of liquid and thus assure himself another 10 years of life! At the moment this may seem a bit farfetched but in the face of other advancements of the day it cannot be considered impossible.

Indeed, the day may not be too far distant when doctors will treat the process of growing old exactly in the manner they now treat pneumonia.

Meanwhile, however, science will go on treating insects with the new substance — ever learning, ever seeking, ever advancing. One thing is certain: we may not find an artificial fountain of youth but we'll undoubtedly have the youngest bugs in captivity.

Will Rogers' Words Do Worrying for Us

From The Raleigh, N. C., News and Observer

Will Rogers said that all he knew was what he saw in the papers. So it may not be inappropriate for a paper to report what appeared in Will Rogers' column just 30 years ago. No comment seems required. Rogers wrote in 1928 in the midst of the boom, just before the bust which was just before the New Deal. He said:

"It just ain't in the book for us to have the best of everything all the time. A lot of these other Nations are mighty poor, and things kinda equal up in the long run. If you got more money, the other fellow mebbe has better health; and if another's got something, why, some other will have something else. But we got too big an overbalance of everything and we better kinda start looking ahead and sorta taking stock and seeing where we are headed."

"You know, I think we put too much emphasis and importance and advertising on our so-called High standard of living. I think that "high" is the only word in that phrase that is really correct. We are living high.

"Our children are delivered to schools in Automobiles. But whether that adds to their grades is doubtful. There hasn't been a Thomas Jefferson in this country since we formed our first Trust. Rail splitting produced an immortal President in Abraham Lincoln; but Golf, with 29 thousand courses, hasn't produced even a good A Number-1 Congressman. There hasn't been a Patrick Henry showed up since business men quit eating lunch with their families, joined a club and have indigestion from amateur Oratory. Suppose Teddy had took up putting instead of horse-back riding. It's also a question what we can convert these four billion filling stations into in years to come. But it ain't my business to do you folks' worrying for you. I am only tipping you off and you-all are supposed to act on it."

It is certainly not the business of Will Rogers, now 23 years dead, to do our worrying for us. But it is just possible that he speaks quite as pertinently now as in rosy-prospect year of 1928.

Episcopal Christmas Service

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Dec. 20, 1879.

Grace church as usual will be beautifully decorated with evergreens in honor of the great festival. The Christmas service will begin at 10 a. m. to be followed with the celebration of the holy communion at 12 o'clock.

The sermon will be appropriate to the day, as will also be the music. The choir has prepared a Te Deum by Hoffmann, a jubilate by Cable, and two beautiful hymns, "Shout the Glad Tidings," by Wilson and "There Were Shepherds," by Dudley Buck.

There will be a Christmas tree for the Sunday school children on Saturday evening, Dec. 27th.

Liked Story, Pictures on Deaf School

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Your newspaper coverage of the Christmas program of the Oshkosh School for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing was outstanding. I thought that the quality of the photography as well as the number of pictures you carried was especially good. The story accompanying the pictures had warmth and understanding and did not seem to be the usual matter of fact news-writing one sees today in so many of the papers.

I am sure that the parents and friends of the young people pictured in the Post-Crescent were thrilled to see and read your account of our Christmas program as well as the general public.

Thoughts as Kohler Visits State Capitol

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Walter J. Kohler, one of the very few three term governors in the history of the state and thus one of its most successful politicians, came to the capitol the other day to greet old friends and associates and to attend the ceremony attending the formal unveiling of his portrait in the gubernatorial portrait gallery.

The incident was a good example of the fleeting nature of political fame. Only two years ago he was the dominant political figure of his state. Later he has been quite ignored politically. His defeat in the senatorial special election a year ago quite obviously ended the political career of a man who began so promisingly only a few years earlier and who had advantages that few other politicians have possessed.

But among some of the men and women standing in the background at the portrait ceremonies there were doubtless reflections upon the nature and extent of Kohler's contributions to the history of his times. Enough time has passed to make an objective evaluation.

Wyngaard

him to sell their crops of hay; men would ask for his intervention to prevent the commitment of a son to the reformatory. They had no grasp of the limitations on a governor's powers. But Kohler, did, and knew why governors are so sharply circumscribed. He quoted an old friend — but was probably revealing his own conviction — that "a good governor can do some good, but a bad one can't do much harm."

Kohler probably achieved more lasting good as leader of the state government than any governor of the last generation. The higher education reorganization program, as one example, stands as a monument to him. The other day an educational bureaucrat who fought that legislation with every resource at his command was boasting to Governor Nelson what a good idea it was and how wonderfully it is now being justified.

Yet it is clear that if Walter Kohler had not lived, and if he had not resolved to take the initiative, that reorganization legislation would not have been adopted.

He was a gentleman, a diffident politician, and a responsible governor.

Southside Teachers Are Praised

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I, too, am a southside parent and I am proud and pleased that my teenagers chose to go to our south side schools, first McKinley, and now the new James Madison Junior High. My husband and I attended the open house for parents recently, and were very much impressed, as were other parents, by the men and women who are teaching our boys and girls. They are competent, they know their fields, they have high ideals and standards, and most of all, they are interested in what kind of citizens our teenage boys and girls will be. Many of them have homes on the southside and are interested therefore in our immediate community. They have spent many years to prepare for the vocation of teaching for the purpose of understanding and guiding teenagers — our boys and girls. They deserve our fullest support.

I, for one, will not be upset by the thoughtless chiding remark that "the southside is trash." It is not, so.

True, our boys and girls, like young people everywhere, make mistakes, like chewing gum in inappropriate places, but they are learning to take their place in the world of the future. Their chances for success will be improved if we parents are home when the children are there (Disgusted Southside Mother sets a good example) to help them to discipline themselves — and if we give our time and support to our teachers and schools and other character-building organizations that have personnel and facilities to help our young people.

We haven't acquired the "school spirit" at our house. I would like to give it a try!

A Hopeful Southside Mother

Taxpayers Group Expresses It's Thanks, Appreciation

Editor, Post-Crescent:

This letter is written to express the appreciation of a group of citizens known as the Appleton Taxpayer's Association for the cooperation it received from the Appleton city officials and the citizens of Appleton in the recent budget hearings.

Thanks to the mayor, city clerk, department heads, and aldermen for their consideration of the suggestions made by the Appleton Taxpayer's association and other interested Appleton citizens.

Thanks to the Appleton citizens who took the time and effort to call their aldermen and express their private views on the budget and to those who followed up their calls by attending the budget meeting in person. It is through active participation such as this that a governing body becomes more efficient and economical, for unless the citizen makes his views known, the elected officials can only act on what he feels is best for the community as a whole, or on what he thinks the people of his ward would want him to do.

The Appleton Taxpayer's association hopes that some of the interest generated was due to its efforts to point out certain areas where analysis indicated expenditures could be cut without impairing the future growth and well-being of the community. The association does not intend to be nor does it wish to be thought of as an indiscriminate cost-slashing organization. It intends to work toward, and strive to be, an aid to the citizens and officials of the City of Appleton and to help analyze and point up facts which will bring about wise decisions by our elected officials.

Government is everyone's business and the responsibility of the citizen does not cease at the voting polls. It is necessary to follow up your vote by assuring yourselves that you are receiving the most possible for your tax dollar by wise spending which will mean a more efficient, economical government in Appleton and Outagamie county, and on a state level.

Learn Bethlehem, Is Goal; Magi Tell Herod of Star

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Propped up with cushions, King Herod the Great watched with canny eyes as the bejeweled curtains parted and the three eastern philosophers were ushered before him.

They bowed in their accustomed manner, stretching forth their hands at knee level. After an exchange of amenities, Herod leaned forward, entwining his veined fingers. Perspiration beaded his forehead as he spoke:

"At what time, my astute doctors, did ye observe this 'astar Theios'—this Divine star?" Taut lines creased his ashen countenance.

The Magi, whether they realized it or not, were in a precarious position. Their report of a new-born prince had stirred up all Jerusalem, and caused consternation among authorities. For less than this, Herod of ten had lopped heads. In the 36 years since the Roman Senate is this Godly king supposed to be born?

"In Bethlehem of Judea," a quaking counselor had said. "For thus it is written by the prophet: 'And thou Bethlehem art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a governor, that shall rule my people Israel.'"

So nervous had the man been that he somewhat misquoted the Prophet Micah who had written 700 years before: "But thou, Bethlehem, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth that is to be ruler in Israel; Whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting."

Man of Peace

"And he shall... be great unto the ends of the earth. And this man shall be the peace."

In any case, Herod, after ascertaining the geographical locale foreseen for the event, turned his attention to the magi, the Persian interlopers who had rekindled the whole business.

What steps should he take? To execute them could bring grave political repercussions for they held royal rank, and carried "safe conduct" tablets from Persia's bellicose Parthian ruler, Phraates IV.

Next to the Romans, the Parthians then were the world's mightiest military power. Their famed horsemen and archers had overwhelmed many an elite corps and Phraates had exchanged tokens of peace with the Roman Emperor Augustus.

So Herod had them called ceremoniously into his presence.

They were regal-looking figures, straight and keen-eyed, dressed in costly robes. "Atharvans," they were titled, "guardians of the fire," clerks of astronomy, said to have once been of Persia's tribe of Medes.

Restraints Himself

As the interview began, Herod restrained himself carefully. "Ye have spoken in the shops and streets of a new king's son," he said, "yet there has been no issue of late in this household." He smiled grimly. "I can well vouchsafe for that."

Then he leaned forward, and in confidential tones, inquired at what time the star had appeared, for this would determine the moment the nativity, and the present age of the child.

The senior magus, Melchior, studied Herod for a moment, then precisely set forth the month, day and hour of the heavenly sign. He also recounted the time that had elapsed since in preparation and travel.

Altogether it apparently had been more than a year since the star's appearance, as indicated by the length of the trip, and Herod's subsequent action against Bethlehem children up to 2 years of age.

His meeting with the magi probably came near his final, disease-ridden year of life, for he died in 4 B.C., in a maniacal rage after learning the magi had circumvented him. Thus, the likely date of the star was 6 B.C.

After getting this information, Herod, hoping to use the magi's abilities to lead him to the specific child, advised them of his findings from the Jewish advisors—that the site was Bethlehem.

Search for Child

"Go and search diligently for the young child," Herod said ingratiatingly, "and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also."

The magi departed, dubious about Herod's intent, but nevertheless with freshened certainty that they neared their objective. The latest turn of affairs was highly encouraging after the fruitless inquiries in Jerusalem.

"And, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was," Matthew's gospel relates. "When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy."

It was a short, 5-mile ride from Jerusalem south to Bethlehem, and varying theories and traditions from olden times have come down about the star's second appearance.

Since it first appeared in the east, the earth's course around the sun could have left it obliterated in the daylight sky for many months before it appeared again in the westerly night sky.

Astronomy also has recorded "variable stars" — those that burst into splendor briefly only to fade and remain dormant for an extended period before exploding again into brilliance.

It also has been determined that the dog-star Sirius, brightest of the fixed stars, rose heliacally before dawn — the Lord himself, and the natural wonder — the light of the star — inevitably is less than the supernatural wonder — the light of Christ on earth.

And whether it was a comet, a pillar of fire, the reappearance of a star, or the flaring of a new one that led them to that house, they moved, not alone at the behest of a handy, miraculous beacon, but as all men must, in the light of events, with grace. For in God's intricate design, even Herod, bent on murder, had contributed to the illumination of the wise.

Sweaters, as Always, Make Elegant Gifts

Blouses, Skirts in Many Combinations Sure to Please

Separates, always a fashion favorite with well-dressed women, are an ideal and easy-to-select Christmas gift.

Sweaters run the gamut from big, warm bulky knits to elaborately trimmed cashmeres for holiday cocktail partying. Loop textured sweaters, in bright reds and blues, are right for country wear with slacks and tweed skirts and for cozy evenings at the fireplace. Some styles feature wide, cowl necklines while others have turtle or boat necks.

The beloved cable stitch in bulkies has been supplemented by an attractive variety of big, loopy stitches and thick ribbing. Pockets adorn some designs and also serve as handy catch-alls.

Double sweaters — a bulky style with a wide neckline — and a lighter sweater with a turtle neck are versatile and high fashion. Give a matching or contrasting under-sweater to a style conscious girl who already owns a heavy mohair sweater.

Bright Scarf

A bright scarf knit right on to the neckline of a heavy black and white sweater offers style and warmth for winter wear. Coachman styles of a deep V-neck, caught with four brass buttons at the waistline are versatile enough to appear with both tapered pants or skirts. Roll up sleeves, borrowed from blouses, are also featured on some of this season's sweater collections.

Blouses are fun to buy — especially for gifts. Pretty, print paisleys, vivid jerseys and soft silks are easily teamed with skirts, pants and suits for a smart, carefully put-together look.

Convertible blouses, which can be worn neatly tucked in and belted, or loose over tapered pants, are a good selection for the all-around girl.

Silky combinations of nylon and dacron look fresh and

Driver's Life Saved by Two Rural Menashans

A route 3, Berlin, man narrowly escaped death by carbon monoxide poisoning while sleeping in his automobile Saturday.

George J. Seidling, about 25, was found unconscious in his car, parked along Highway 114 about two miles west of Sherwood, by Arthur Coel and Benjamin Thompson, both of route 1, Menasha.

The men stopped to investigate the parked auto and said Seidling's color "looked funny." The motor was running. The men were unable to awake him, so Coel went to a telephone to notify the Calumet county sheriff's office.

By the time Patrolman Irvin Vice arrived, Seidling had been awakened by Thompson. Vice took him to St. Elizabeth hospital in his squad car.

Vice said doctors told him the man might not have lived if another five minutes had elapsed before he received treatment. Seidling's condition was reported as good at the hospital today.

GOP Offers Four Mavericks High Places in State Senate

Democrats Not Anxious, See Some Good in Divided Responsibility

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Madison — Four Wisconsin state senators with considerable seniority in the legislature but with little previous prominence or power have been catapulted into strategic position in the new legislature that will convene Jan. 14.

They are Draheim, four who wear the Republican label but have inconsistent political backgrounds and identities, bi-partisan voting habits and the usual label of "maverick".

If the four independent Republicans decide to vote with the Democratic minority in the senate during the next legislative session, they can throw control of the upper house to the Democrats.

Democrats won the governorship, other state offices and the assembly in the election. Republicans probably hold nominal control in the senate because only half of the senators were up for election this year.

Would Bring Tie
Republicans have 20 senators, according to chosen labels. Democrats have 12. There is one vacant senate seat. If the 20 Republicans vote together, they can control senate organization, procedure and the fate of legislation in the upper house with ease. But, if the rebellious four throw in their lot with the Democrats, there will be a 16-to-16 tie in the chamber, and Lt. Gov. Phil Lee Nash, as the presiding officer, will be entitled to break it. As a Democrat, he would vote with his party.

There is no certainty that the "mavericks" will ally themselves with the Democrats, except on special occasions, although they have been making public threats of such a possibility and are quite obviously enjoying the power and the prominence they have gained through the circumstances resulting from the Nov. 4 voting.

(Political reports have long used the term "maverick" to describe political independents, men who refuse to respond to party discipline. The word derives from Texas ranch life, and is thought to have originated as a descriptive of unbranded livestock. A Maverick, a Texas rancher, once permitted his stock to run at large.)

Scorns Concessions
The Republican "regulars," in their recent organization caucus that was ignored by the "mavericks," tried to mollify the four by inferentially pledging better committee assignments than they have had in previous sessions. But, Sen. Allan J. Busby, Milwaukee, leader of the quartet, has publicly scorned such concessions and has hinted that he and his colleagues may prefer to ally themselves with the Democrats because of the "reputation" of the "regulars" at the polls this fall.

The other three senators upon whom state political interest now centers are Chester Dempsey, Waukesha and Jefferson counties, a farmer near Hartland; W. A. Draheim, Neenah, of Winnebago and umet counties, a retired merchant and reserve army officer, and J. Erle Leverich, Sparta, also a farmer most of his life, and a representative of Adams, Juneau, Marquette, Monroe and Vernon counties.

Busby is a lawyer and former teacher.

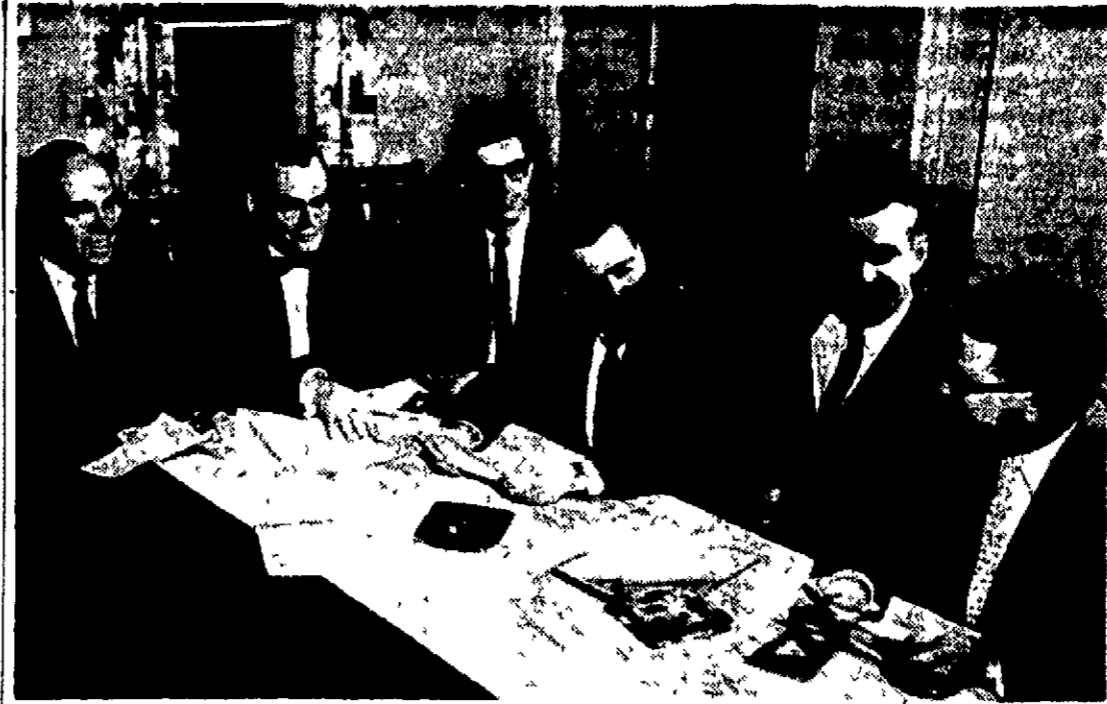

The four have little in common with respect to personal background, but they are similar in having considerable legislative experience and a record of party shifting.

Busby started his career as a member of the Progressive party, and turned to the Republicans when his party organization disbanded in 1946. So did Leverich.

Draheim Conservative
Dempsey started his public life as a Democrat. So did Draheim. Both turned to the Republican party at a time when the Democratic prospects were indifferent.

While they tend to be regarded as "liberals," in the loose definitions of contemporary politics, they also differ in their irregularity. Busby and Draheim are inclined to be more pro-labor. Leverich and Dempsey incline to be independent on strictly rural issues. On financial matters, Draheim is regarded as one of the most conservative members of the legislature, sometimes protesting what he regards as the tendency for excessive spending by the Republicans.

Republican stalwarts have already conceded more than they would in normal circumstances, in their anxiety to maintain voting control of the upper house. Dempsey has been offered a prize place on the senate committee on com-

Ban Pamphlet From U. S. Chapel in Tokyo

Publication Warned Of 'Evils of Mixed Marriages'

Tokyo — (AP) — A pamphlet cautioning against marriage between Americans and foreigners, particularly of another race, has been banned from the big armed forces chapel in Tokyo.

Before U. S. military authorities threw it out, the pamphlet "If I Marry A Foreigner" was free for taking from the chapel's literature rack.

The Fifth air force's staff chaplain, Albert C. Schiff, Jr. of Columbus, Ohio, said the publication "is not an official pamphlet and was distributed inadvertently."

"Now that it has been brought to our attention it is being withdrawn," he said. The pamphlet is attributed to Chaplain George W. Thompson—not further identified—and was printed by the Moody Press of Chicago. It said "marriage to a permittee a trio of senators which dictates committee organization.

Leverich is in line for the agriculture committee chairmanship, if he wants it, an assignment of high political value for the representative of a rural constituency.

Busby can have the senate judiciary committee chairmanship, one of the most powerful offices in the house. Draheim may not get the chairmanship of the joint committee of finance which he is presumed to desire, but he could demand another committee command, it is assumed in capitol circles.

Democrats Noncommittal
Democrats, for their part, have been noncommittal about the hints of the "mavericks" that an alliance between them is possible. Some Democrats are not anxious to get control of the legislature on such a tenuous basis, and prefer to wait for the 1960 elections when they are sure they can elect a majority of senators.

Other Democratic politicians, aware of the severe financial problems the legislature and the new administration will face, privately believe a division of responsibility for the record in the new term may be an advantage for the Democrats. Under such a division, the Democrats are in position to blame Republican opposition for any failures they will be required to explain in the 1960 campaign, it is reasoned.

son of another race, or even of another country could cause much grief."

"No right thinking American," it continued, "believes that he is better than some other nationality because he happens to be an American, or lives in a country where we have more of the blessings of civilization than any other man."

But "if you marry a foreigner, what reception will your kin give to the person you marry?" the pamphlet continued. "... Would this person fit into your family and be accepted as an equal, or would the family feel that you married beneath your cultural, religious, social and moral level?"

"Will you be able to overcome any nausea created by a difference in ideals, in dress, conduct, food, clothing and other things that are so definitely a part of us?"

Moral Standard
It also questioned whether children should be "taught a religion which is contrary to and in a very definite sense has a moral standard below that of the Christian religion."

An estimated 30,000 to 40,000 American servicemen have married Japanese girls since the end of World War II. Most of these couples are now living in the United States.

There was no indication who put the pamphlets in the

Science May Soon Introduce Drug To Kill Depression

New Haven, Conn. — (AP) — Science may soon develop a tranquilizer-type drug which will relieve mental depression, Yale psychiatrists say — but don't look for a drug which will alleviate human grief.

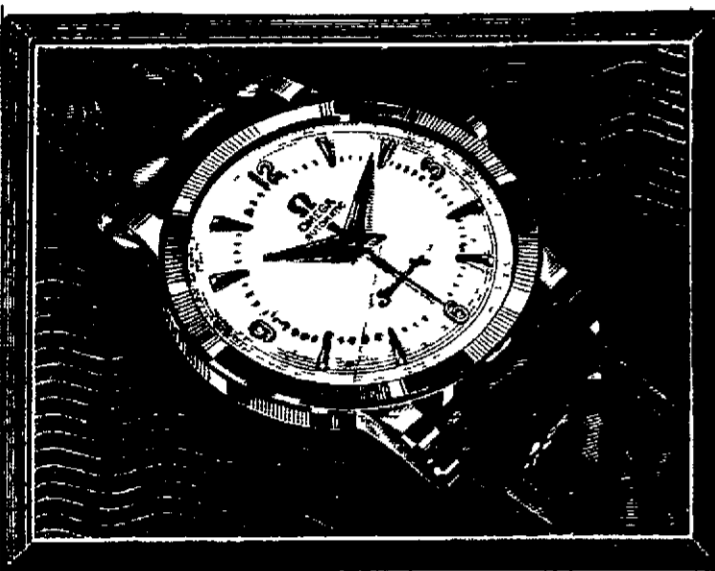

Dr. Daniel Freeman, assistant professor of psychiatry, said while there is no drug at present which is entirely proven as a depression-killer, there are many new drugs which show great promise. Instead of a "human-grief drug," Freedman hopes another type of drug will emerge.

"I would like very much to see one which would help learning," he added.

Tokyo chapel, Chaplain Schiff said "apparently they were lying around for several days." He added that as far as he knew, none had been found in any of the other U. S. armed forces chapels in Japan.

No Black Market in Cash in Portugal

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Lisbon — When you enter Portugal, you don't ask what its currency, the escudo, is selling for in the black market—an entirely normal procedure for the hep tourist to follow in most other countries.

There isn't any currency black market Sylvia Porter in Portugal. The official rate for the Portuguese currency is 28.75 escudos for $1. The free market rate is 28.50 to 28.60 escudos for $1—meaning in Lisbon, the great American dollar actually is selling at a small discount in terms of Portuguese money.

When you talk high finance with informed sources here.

you don't ask how they're handling their budget, trade, inflation problems—common place subjects for the visitor to pursue in most other nations.

Backed by Gold
Every escudo outstanding is backed by more than 100 per cent in gold in the Portuguese treasury. This country—heart of the third largest colonial empire in the world—has operated with a balanced budget for over a quarter-century. Portugal and her overseas territories sell a lot more to other countries than continental Portugal buys from others.

And over the past 10 years, the cost of living here has risen by less than 10 per cent and the increase last year was under 1½ per cent.

In short, when you, as an American tourist, hit Portugal—a country only about the size of Connecticut plus Maine—you almost go on the defensive about the U. S. dollar, about the way gold is flowing out of our nation now and the speed at which living costs have been climbing.

It's a peculiar and not at all pleasant feeling.

The vast majority of Portugal's citizens are appallingly poor and Portugal shares with Spain the dubious distinction of having the lowest standard of living in western Europe.

Many Illiterate
A top mechanic here earns $24 a week; a laborer on the roads gets around $9 a week. Almost half the population is illiterate.

And yet, in startling contrast, Portugal boasts one of the strongest currencies and most stable financial systems in the world.

"We are strong," one of the top financiers in Lisbon repeatedly remarked to me during a lengthy discussion. "Our currency is worth today what it was worth in 1949 and our currency will be worth in 1969 what it will be worth in 1959."

And several times he emphasized, "You cannot say the same for your U.S. dollar. We do not distrust our money and gold backing. But we are starting to distrust yours."

How has Portugal managed to achieve this remarkable financial stability? The answer, in capsule, is: Dominant Aim

Her government has made strength of her currency a dominant aim — placed it ahead of economic development of the nation, advancement of the people. When Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar came into power as finance minister, premier — and dictator — after the upheaval of the '20s, he vowed to bring back a stable, rich government. He has done so.

There are rigid controls to make sure her escudo is fully backed by gold. There are controls to make sure her exports top her imports. There are controls to make sure her budget shows a surplus. There are rules making it exceedingly tough for an average businessman who can't put up stacks of collateral to get a loan from a bank on any terms.

While building is booming all over and around Lisbon and there is industrial development, there is no missing it: in Portugal as in Spain, living is for the rich and the poor just manage to survive.

"You are paying a stiff price for your solvency," I remarked to my informant as we debated control after control.

"The results are worth it," he replied. "Our people know the cost of living has remained stable. They take great pride in this."

Resentment Grows
"You cannot deny that resentment is growing and hope to silence your opponents forever by arresting them," I persisted.

"We'll take that risk," he answered. "We'll develop economically but only as fast as we can afford it, only as we can finance the advances."

Back home where you and I live, I cannot imagine such worship of dollar stability. Since the depression '30s we have made it abundantly clear that if the choice is between full employment and a strong dollar, we'll take full employment.

Back home I cannot conceive of such open tolerance of poverty as a way of life for so many, of such rigid controls. On this, too, we have made our views unmistakable.

Still, it's a shock to realize that as one result of the difference between our attitudes, the escudo of tiny Portugal

Greeks Taken By Russians Praise Reds

Communists do Good Propaganda Jobs on Children

Athens — Some of the Greek children taken behind the Iron Curtain by the communists in the postwar revolt are proving first rate propagandists for their kidnapers. Only a select 200 of the estimated 27,000 taken away as babies and teenagers have been allowed to come home. They returned to isolated mountain villages where their parents still live and were disillusioned by the primitive surroundings.

Favored Treatment
During 10 years in communist custody the youngsters had been given favored treatment. They had lived in comparative luxury—in such big cities as Warsaw, Budapest, Bucharest.

The repatriates now are dazzling villagers with the tales of the wonderful places they have seen. Greek authorities are worried about the effect of the yarns on the stay-at-homes.

An older revolutionary, Efstratios Manoussakis, says the estimated 36,000 Greek rebels who fled voluntarily with the communists do not share the same feeling as the repatriated youth.

Manoussakis, a naval engineer, went to the Soviet Union in 1949 when the 3-year communist rebellion in Greece was crushed. He lived there nine years.

"Thousands of Greek rebels now living behind the Iron Curtain," he says, "want to return to their homeland, even at the risk of court-martial and possible imprisonment." He said the Greek communist party leadership-in-exile is raising obstacles to discourage those who want to come home and that he tried for years before getting permission to leave Russia.

The Greek rebels live mostly in a camp at Tashkent, a sheep and goat raising area of central Asia. Manoussakis branded as 90 per cent untrue reports in leftist Athens newspapers that conditions in the camp are ideal.

commands a premium over the dollar of mighty America. It's no fun at all to recognize that we also are paying a stiff price for our way of life.

Nelson Wants Resource Study For North Area

the northland, its present nature and extent, its problems and its potential. Such a study has been advocated by spokesmen of the commercial tourist industry. The study would be undertaken by the university school of commerce, probably with a special legislative appropriation that should not be difficult to get from a tourist-conscious legislature.

But as the new governor sees it, the economic problems of the upper Wisconsin counties are considerably broader and the state should at the same time make economic studies of the potential development of the mineral and wood resources of that vast region as well.

Loomed Big
The prospects for such urgent concern about the thinly populated and generally less prosperous northern third of the state recalls the period of 20 years ago and more when the question also loomed big in state politics.

In that period the north was known as the "cut-over", a reference to its emergence at that time from the ravages of forest fires which were so common a quarter of a century ago. The evolution of a big and costly fire protection system restored green cover to northern counties.

The use of state tax funds for tourist advertising has aided in expanding the local tax base as hundreds of resorts were built and thousands of non-residents bought summer home sites and developed them. There has been a rich new growth of forest products, and notable pulpwood, to strengthen the local economic fabric.

But in general the north lags far behind the rest of the state in taxable wealth and productive enterprise and most of its counties continue to lose population to the expanding counties and cities to the south.

Pounded Hard
Upper Wisconsin politicians have pounded the issue hard, and evidently with some effect, as shown by overwhelming Democratic margins in most of the northland in recent elections.

There is considerable local excitement in some of the northwestern Wisconsin counties about the prospects for the exploitation of taconite, a low grade iron ore.

Gov. Thomson was enthusiastic about the chances for the expansion of the iron mining industry through new processing techniques for taconite, and recent legislatures have modified tax and other laws to facilitate such development. Thus far, however, there has been no solid assurance of commercially successful taconite production.

Original Amos 'n Andy Pallbearers at Rites For Program's Kingfish

Los Angeles —(P)—The original Amos 'n Andy-Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll—were among honorary pallbearers for Harry R. Moore, 70-year-old "Kingfish" of the television series.

Last rites for Moore were conducted Saturday at Mt. Sinai Baptist church. Thousands attended the rites, and watched from outside the church. He died of tuberculosis a week earlier.

Drives for Funds for the Floyd Weyenberg family, stricken by the death of their six children in a fire in their home Sunday morning, have been started in the Kaukauna. a davenport. A television set was melted by the heat.

The condition of the stairway leading to the second floor bedrooms led firemen to believe the children were awakened by the fire, fled downstairs and tried to escape the flames before the fire actually spread to the upper portion of the home.

Furnace Banked
The parents told firemen the coal furnace was banked for the night and had not been touched. The family's Christmas tree was not set up. Neither parent had smoked before leaving for church, although Weyenberg later told firemen he was not certain about it.

The parents had painted the kitchen Saturday night and moved the youngest child, Michael, to the upstairs bedroom from his regular sleeping place in the parent's bedroom because of the paint odor. Firemen were told Michael was not a good walker, so surmised one of the older children must have helped him downstairs.

Kemps said holding an inquest will depend on the findings of Chief Haupt, Marshal Schwabe and Electrical Inspector Wesley Guilfoyle, who are continuing their investigation today.

municipal and county councilors, parliament members and a few plain citizens.

Rivals Far Behind
Of 79,468 valid ballots, complete returns gave De Gaulle 62,392.

The two token opposition candidates ran far behind. Communist George Marrange, 70, mayor of the Paris suburb of Ivry, received 10,354 votes. Albert Chatelet, 75, a University of Paris dean and candidate of the non-communist opposition to De Gaulle, got 6,722.

The last two districts to report, both from overseas, were solid for the premier. Little windswept St. Pierre and Miquelon islands off Canada, France's only North American territory, gave him 21 votes.

The sun-drenched Polynesian islands of the south Pacific gave him 54.

Until he takes over the presidency, De Gaulle remains premier with his broad special powers to rule by decree. These special powers automatically expire when he becomes president.

Many reorganization measures, almost all affecting internal affairs, still are in the cabinet mills and must be approved in the next two weeks. One of these is the 1958 budget, which almost certainly will call for new taxes.

Strikes Hit Holiday Travel

of talks between the company and the striking Air Line Pilots association. A union spokesman and a federal mediator have predicted the strike will be a long one.

American notified 20,000 non-striking employees last night they will be placed on emergency leave, without pay, after Jan. 4 if the strike goes beyond that date.

Eastern's mechanics voted Friday night in Miami on proposals offered by the company. They are withholding the results pending a company settlement with the engineers.

Strikers Criticized
The pilots' strike at American drew criticism from two California officials.

Rep. H. Allen Smith (R-Calif) wired ALPA President Clarence Sayen:

"I strongly protest your calling a pilots' strike against AA at this time. With so many students and others wanting to get home for Christmas, it seems that common decency on your part would certainly delay any strike until after the holidays.

"As a member of congress, I want you to know that I intend to closely watch your future activities with serious doubts as to your ideas of honesty and fair play."

Not in Public Interest

Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson said in another wire to Sayen:

"Strongly protest the pilot strike of AA at this time. Traveling public trying to get home for Christmas being greatly inconvenienced. I am not arguing the merits of the case, but the timing of the strike just before Christmas is certainly not in the public interest."

The strikes disrupted travelers' plans for the second consecutive holiday. Pre-Thanksgiving air travel was choked by a strike at Trans World Airways as well as at Eastern. The TWA strike has since been settled.

American operates chiefly on cross-country runs east and west with 195 planes it says represent the largest domestic fleet. They go in and out of 77 cities in 26 states.

Eastern flies mostly north and south in the eastern part of the country. Its 188 planes serve 123 cities in 25 states, plus the Canadian cities of Ottawa and Montreal, Mexico City, Bermuda and Puerto Rico.

American puts its normal daily passenger load at 24,000 persons, and claims it ranks first in the number of passenger miles flown and in air cargo. Eastern cites a figure of 25,000 persons carried daily.

Berlin Loss Means Surrender Everywhere

If Reds Think War Would be Fought,
West May be Able to Avoid Disaster

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Paris — The Paris rally of the leaders of the west at least showed absolute agreement on one point: that surrender at Berlin will amount in the end to surrender everywhere. The most cautious and provincial NATO part-ners were as sure of this as Sec. of State Dulles himself. Nevertheless, the contrast was striking between the western leaders' approach to the Berlin problem and the approach of Nikita Khrushchev. All Khrushchev's declarations, notes, and cocktail hour menaces about Berlin can be boiled down to three simple propositions, as follows:

First, free Berlin is a cancer on the body politic of the Soviet satellite empire, and the cancer must be cut out. Second, nobody (meaning nobody in the west) is going to fight an H-bomb war for Berlin. Third, however, the Soviet Union is entirely ready to use its great military power in support of the East German government, if the west makes any attempt to break a Berlin blockade imposed by the Kremlin's Pankow puppets.

Doomed City
Behind these three propositions of Khrushchev, there is his knowledge that Berlin cannot be sustained by another airlift, so the easy way out that was taken in 1948 is no longer open in 1958. If this is correct, and if Khrushchev's second and third propositions are also correct, then Berlin is already a doomed city. In fact, if the western

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"Eliminate the middlemen and overhead, sir! . . . Get the most out of your charity contribution! . . ."

leaders are not fully prepared to meet the terrible challenge that Khrushchev is threatening them with, it is their plain moral duty to tell the free Berliners to save themselves while they can.

For the west, if the easy way out is closed this time, the crucial point is obviously Khrushchev's second proposition. The western allies do not have enough conventional military power to take on the red army, without being ready to use the strategic deterrent too. Therefore, if Berlin is not to be surrendered in the end, the west must be ready to fight an H-bomb war for Berlin.

In this way, the Berlin crisis somewhat resembles the Quemoy crisis. For Quemoy, in the last analysis, was saved because the cold warriors of the Kremlin and the forbidden city were not ready to risk a big war to win Quemoy.

One Difference
There is one great difference, however, between the Quemoy crisis and the Berlin crisis. At Quemoy, there was room for a prolonged test of will in actual combat. The strange test, conducted with real weapons, went on for many weeks before Moscow and or Peiping were convinced of the will of the Chinese nationalists and their American allies was too firm to be tampered with. At Berlin, in contrast, there is almost no room at all for this kind of prolonged test of will with real weapons.

One side cannot probe the other side's intentions with conventional arms without forcing an immediate decision for or against the use of the weapons of total destruction. Any probing with conventional arms by either side will immediately engage the other side's prestige to the utmost. The side that backs down after such a probe will be universally considered to be the defeated side.

In these circumstances, since Khrushchev so plainly conceives the Berlin problem in straight military terms, there is only one sane course to adopt. This is the course of using every means possible, in advance of any final test on the Berlin supply lines, to convince Khrushchev that he is altogether wrong in his second proposition.

If he can be made to believe the west would rather fight a big war than surrender at Berlin, and if he is also offered a line of retreat into east-west negotiations, then there is every reason to hope that a disaster can be avoided. But on the face of the facts as known at present, this is the only way to avoid disaster.

Bomb Scare Closings Find Children Not Ready for Recess

The unexpected closing of schools Friday found many Appleton youngsters completely unprepared for Christmas vacation. What could be more disastrous than facing the two free weeks ahead without ice skates, gym shoes, boots and, in at least one case, snow pants?

Many articles of clothing left in schools over Thursday night would have been taken home Friday. But with schools closed because of the bomb scare, it appeared to many youngsters they'd be facing a dreary vacation. The situation resolved itself

Monday, Dec. 22, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent A13

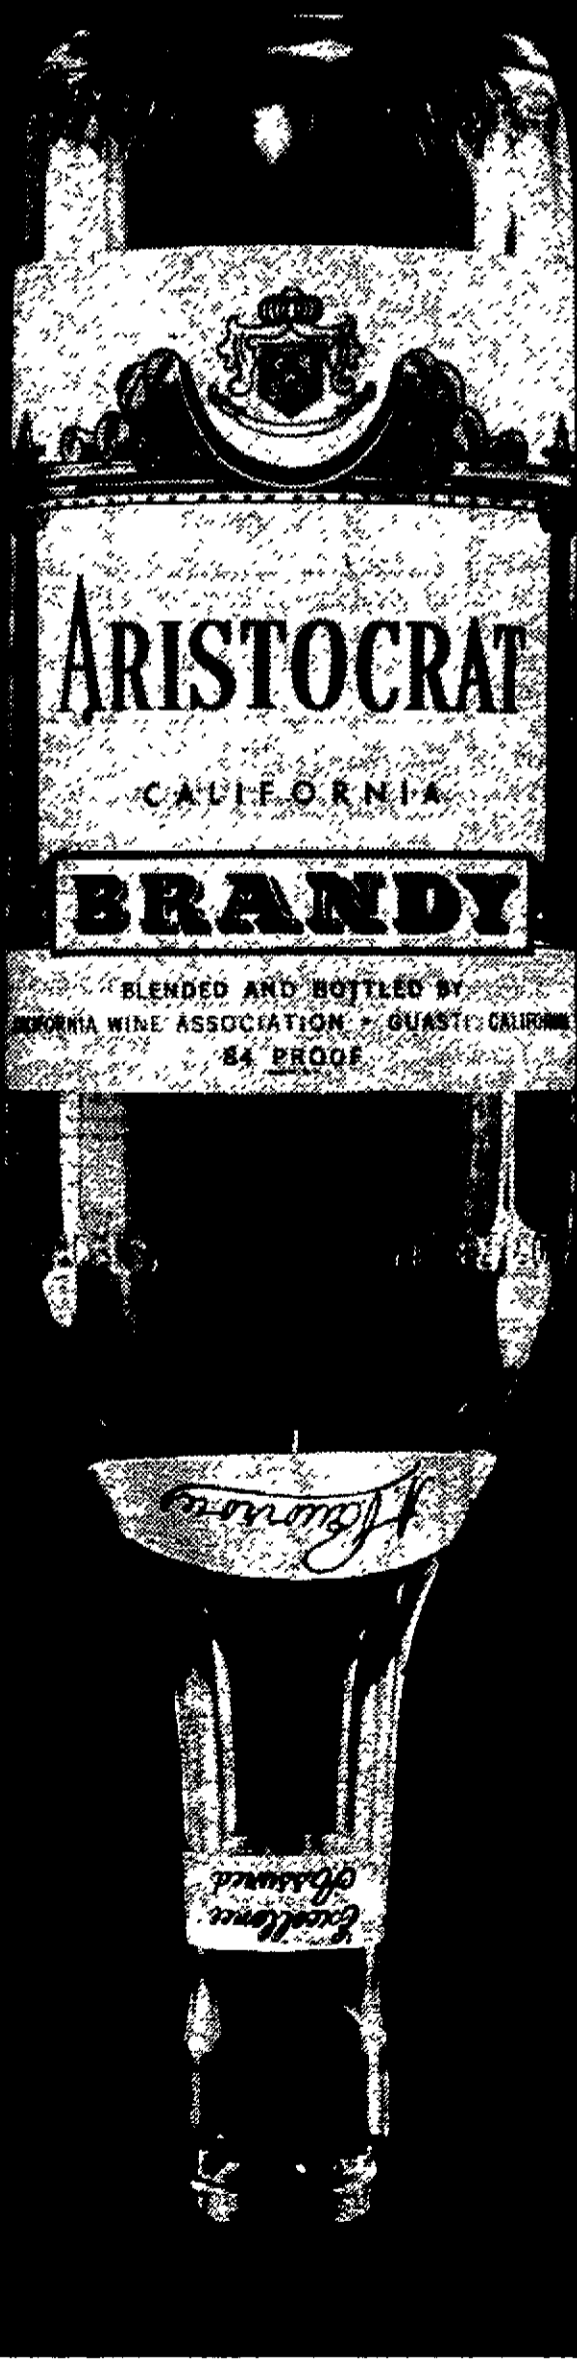

In many instances when parents visited schools to pick up the articles, janitors reported. Often the children themselves turned up to retrieve belongings.

Party Worries
Most calls to principals, however, concerned Christmas parties. Youngsters were wondering whether they'd be held as scheduled, principals reported.

In some cases, gifts were distributed to homes by parents or teachers but, since most parties had been scheduled for the afternoon, many youngsters hadn't brought their exchange presents to school.

Whether parties will be held after Christmas will be decided by individual teachers, it was reported.

Crhistmas Parties, Serenades Put Lawrence Students in Holiday Rush

The Lawrence Conservatory of Music presented its traditional Christmas Musicales in the Memorial union. The impressive program of holiday music featured the Little Symphony, Male Chorus, Women's Glee Club and the Lawrence Singers. Louise Rademacher and Marcia Millar, both of Wauwatosa, and Carolyn Rosenthal, Menasha, left to right, are with the Lawrence Singers.

Tell Engagment Of Madison Girl, James L. McEathron

The engagement of their daughter, Ardath, to James L. Douglas street, has been announced by the Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Orians, Madison.

Miss Orians attended North Central college, Naperville, Ill., and was graduated last June from Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, where she was affiliated with Delta Zeta sorority. She is doing graduate work in journalism at the University of Wisconsin and is an assistant to the Capital Times society editor.

Her fiance will graduate from the University of Wisconsin in January, receiving his degree in industrial management. He is a member of the Wisconsin Union music committee, treasurer of the Union Directorate and was summer president of the Wisconsin Memorial Union.

The Christmas season is one of the brightest and most active on the Lawrence college campus. Although the two weeks prior to the students' holiday vacation is filled with tests, papers and classes, they still find time to bring Christmas to the campus.

Freshmen women are busy decorating Ormsby hall for the annual open house, sororities and fraternities practice faithfully to produce lovely Christmas serenades and trees are trimmed throughout campus dwellings. Christmas music and the Christmas spirit rings through the campus in concert programs, dances and parties.

National Jamboree Girl Scout Council Names Round-Up Representatives

The names of 16 Senior Scouts who will represent the Fox River Valley Area Girl Scout council at the National Senior Scout Round-Up have been announced by Miss Patricia Bodette, council field director.

The Round-Up, held every three years, will be staged July 3 to July 12 near Colorado Springs, Colo. A group of 8,000 Senior Scouts and leaders from all parts of the nation and foreign countries will attend.

Theme of the Round-Up will be "New Frontiers", with the slogan "A Mile High World-Wide" adopted for the campsite, which is located near the foot of Pikes Peak.

The local scouts will begin an intensive training course in January in preparation for the Round-Up. They will practice cooking over charcoal, study western history, foreign languages and geology and obtain knowledge of their home communities.

Two patrols of eight scouts each will be formed by the local girls. They will travel as a group on chartered scout trains and be assigned adult camp counselors upon arrival in Colorado Springs. Cost of the trip will be partially borne by the girls.

Name Delegates

Girls were selected by a council committee directed by Miss Mary Morton, Appleton. Assisting her were Mrs. Kurt Hirsch, Neenah, and Mrs. John Ringler, Appleton.

The 16 Scouts are registered Senior Scouts with at least one year's experience, 14 years of age or older and will have completed ninth grade by June.

Scouts chosen are Linda Benoit, Neenah, Troop 134; Lois Cotton, Appleton, Troop 83; Rita Dale, Appleton, Troop 120; Stephanie Downs, Appleton, Troop 86; Lynn Eastwood, Neenah, Troop 58; Holly Grobe, Appleton, Troop 86; Jackie and Jane Hietpas, Little Chute, both of Troop 207; Marcia Huppler, Neenah, Troop 134; Stephanie LeVee, Appleton, Troop 86; Susanne Miller, Clintonville, Troop 188; Jeanne Mumme, Appleton, Troop 86; Jane Rowe, Appleton, Troop 126; Catherine Talbot, Neenah, Troop 129; Jane Tibbets, Appleton, Troop 126, and Lynn Wiese, Clintonville, Troop 188.

Thirteen alternates also have been named and also will be trained in camping skills.

They are Susan Adrian, Appleton, Troop 120; Mary Jo Boehm, Neenah, Troop 134; Kathryn Gillette, Appleton, Troop 83; Patricia Hoffman, Neenah, Troop 87; Connie Husman, Seymour, Troop 201; Barbara Jooss, Appleton, Troop 128; Sandra Lewis, Neenah, Troop 129; Joan Maxa, Appleton, Troop 54; Carol Peters, Clintonville, Troop 188; Cythia Rowe, Appleton, Troop 126; Lois Schloemer, Neenah, Troop 58; Lynn Weinkauff, Appleton, Troop 86, and Bonita Weiss, Appleton, Troop 83.

Adult representatives from the local council will be announced later by national Girl Scout headquarters.

Christmas Carols Drifting through the open window are wonderful sounds to hear, especially when there is studying to be done. Sororities and fraternities band together to serenade students and faculty during the two weeks before school closes. Carroll Gonzo, Manitowoc, directs Nancy Rentner, Antioch, Ill., and Lys Vaillancourt, Milwaukee, front row, both Kappa Deltas, and his Beta Theta Pi fraternity brothers, Gil Sutherland, Milwaukee, Dave Smith, Milwaukee, and Edward Doemland, Des Plaines, Ill., left to right.

Students Give Christmas Recital

Music students of Mrs. Clifford Vincent gave a Christmas recital Saturday afternoon. After the program, gifts were distributed and carols sung.

Recital participants were Carol Strossenreuther, Dawn Kathy Walker, Nancy Rod-Mussett, Mary Rae, Ann's and Allison Manthey.

Marilyn Jean Long, Bridegroom Take Skiing Honeymoon

On a skiing honeymoon to Saint Moritz, Switzerland, and Kitzbuhel, Austria, are newlyweds Lt. Delton Downs and his bride, the former Marilyn Jean Long, both of Landstahl, Germany.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Long, 119 S. Walnut street, and the late

Mr. Long, was claimed in double ring rites preceding a newlywed's Lt. Delton Downs, 11 o'clock nuptial mass Saturday. Lt. Christensen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Christensen, Salmon, Idaho.

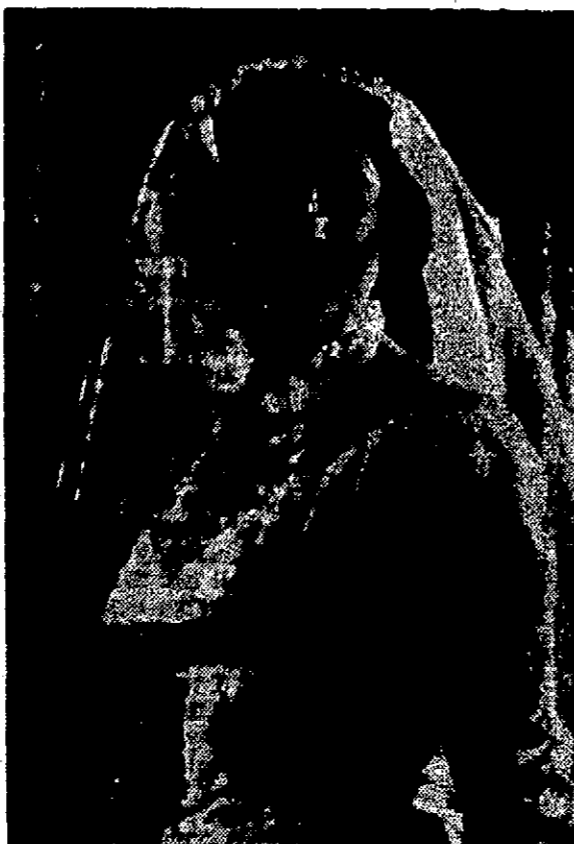

The marriage was performed by Lt. Col. O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, at the Landstahl army medical center chapel. Soloist during the ceremony was Sgt. Nooney, Landstahl.

The bride was escorted to the altar by Capt. Charles Joyner. Best man was Lt. Paul Oelsner. Ushers were Capt. John Jensen and Lt. Donald Galli, all of Landstahl. In Appleton, the bride's relatives served in the wedding party by proxy. The bride's brother, John R. Long, presented his sister in marriage while Mrs. Robert Kolosso was her sister's bridesmaid. Another sister, Mrs. Ray Page, Green Bay, was matron of honor by proxy.

The couple will live in Landstahl, where the bridegroom is stationed as a first lieutenant in the 46th surgical hospital. He is with the medical service corps of the army.

The bride is employed as teacher at the army dependent school, Landstahl. She is a graduate of St. Mary academy, Bayview, Milwaukee, and of Sacred Heart college, Edgewood, Madison.

Her bridegroom was graduated from Idaho State college of Pharmacy.

Mrs. Delton D. Christensen

Honeymooning in France

Bergman Wed Third Time: May Face Bigamy Charge

Paris — Ingrid Bergman called the police today so she could honeymoon in peace with her new husband, wealthy Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.

The 43-year-old Swedish actress and her third spouse, who is 41, eluded press and public yesterday and were married in a quiet civil ceremony in London's Caxton Hall registry office.

By the time the press tumbled to the marriage, the couple had flown to Paris and taken refuge in a little walled farm Schmidt owns 15 miles from Paris.

Order Press to Leave

By dawn the farm was besieged by newsmen and photographers, who began mounting the wall. Miss Bergman called the gendarmes from the nearby village and they ordered the press off the wall.

In marrying again, Miss Bergman defied the Rome court of appeal which is considering a state prosecutor's contest of a lower Rome court's decree annulling her marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

She had announced months ago that she would wed Schmidt when she was free from Rossellini. At a hearing last Friday in Rome her attorney was warned the remarriage before the appeal court's decision "would be highly detrimental to her case."

Another hearing is scheduled Feb. 3.

France to be Home

The actress' London attorney, Ambrose Applebe, said the appeal against the annulment "is just a put-up job" and that her new marriage is legal in Sweden, Britain and France.

Miss Bergman has said she and Schmidt will live in France.

Under Italian law, the annulment is not legally effective until the appeal is decided. The state prosecutor had said previously he would file bigamy charges if either Miss Bergman or Rossellini married before the case was settled.

Schmidt is the son of a retired Swedish army officer. He has been Miss Bergman's constant companion since she and Rossellini separated.

15-Minute Ceremony

Miss Bergman came to London last Thursday, ostensibly to do some Christmas shopping.

Yesterday morning she drove with Applebe to Caxton hall, near Westminster abbey. Schmidt arrived with Swedish Baron and Baroness Goran Van Essen. The registry office normally is closed Sunday, and the sunny street was deserted.

The only other witnesses to the 15-minute ceremony were British TV magnate Sidney Bernstein and an unidentified American woman friend of Miss Bergman.

Bride Wears Blue

The bride wore blue, with a grey mink stole over her shoulders and a close-fitting white feathered hat. Schmidt was in a dark gray suit with a light tie.

The wedding party drove from Caxton hall to London's Swedish church, where the vicar blessed the marriage. Then they went to a London hotel for a luncheon of salad, lobster, cheese and champagne toasts.

Arriving at the airport shortly after Miss Bergman and Schmidt smilingly parried questions of newsmen who had heard only rumors they would marry in a few days in Paris.

The couple carried Christmas-decorated packages, and one reporter asked if they included a trousseau. "Christmas presents, of course," Miss Bergman replied laughingly.

Marian McKnight, Gareth Carmody On Honeymoon Trip

Palm Springs, Calif. — The Miss America of 1957 and her GI mate are honeymooning in this desert resort city today.

Marian McKnight of Manning, S. C., was married to Pvt. Gareth Carmody here yesterday by a justice of the peace.

Carmody is a graduate of UCLA, where Miss McKnight is a student. He interrupted an acting career for army service. After he is discharged next spring the couple plans to live in Los Angeles.

Both are 22. Carmody is on leave from Fort Ord, near Monterey, Calif.

Actress Ingrid Bergman and Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt, pictured in Wales last June, were married Sunday in a London registry office. The couple is honeymooning on a little farm Schmidt owns near Paris.

Materialistic - Minded Mother Veiled in Self-Righteousness

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had my third baby several weeks ago. I sent 22 birth announcements to close friends and relatives. To date I have received three cards and no gifts.

When ever one of my friends has a baby I always send a card as soon as I hear the good news. My husband says I am overly conscientious and it doesn't pay. I used to argue with him, but now I think he may be right.

I hate to lose faith in mankind, but what is one to think? Sometimes I feel so blue I cry. Please give me your ideas on the subject—Disappointed.

Dear Disappointed: Did you send announcements or invoices? Apparently, you're more concerned with tangible results than sharing the good news with friends. According to experts in the direct mail field, a 2 per

Charles Marcks,
Elsie M. Thomas
Engaged to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thomas, route 1, Black Creek, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Elsie Mae, to Charles Marcks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Marcks, route 1, Black Creek. The couple is planning a May wedding.

Miss Thomas and her fiancé attended Seymour High school. The bride-elect is employed by the Home Mutual Insurance company. Her fiancé is engaged in farming.

cent response is good. If you got three cards back on a mailing of 22 pieces it's much better than you had a right to expect. And quit crying. If this is the most shattering thing that has happened to you—you're lucky.

DEAR ANN: I'm going steady with a very fine fellow who graduated from high school in June. Barry works for his uncle but next month he is going into the service. I am 17 and a senior.

We know we can't be married until he gets his two years of army service out of the way, but we want to pledge our love by exchanging friendship rings. My folks are against it. I've tried to explain that this is not the same as being engaged. It's one step above going steady.

I've dated many other fellows and I like Barry better than anyone I've ever known. He feels the same about me. Why should we waste time on other people when we know we were meant for each other? Please be sensible.—Felicia

Dear Felicia: For the umpteenth time, this is the way we handle a romance between a high school senior and a fellow who owes his uncle two years of his life. We don't put ourselves in spend two beautiful years looking for the mailman. We date others and develop outside interests. When a boy and girl reserve themselves for a certain party, they become dull and ingrown.

Tell Barry he is free to date others and that you want to do the same. The senior year in high school is no time to be shackled by a long-distance romance. If it's love it won't melt. If you two were meant for each other, you'll know it when he comes home—and you can take it from there.

Lally Twins, Models, Actresses, Visit Clintonville Aunt

BY MILDRED LAIB

Joanne and Janet Lally, New York City, 21-year-old identical twin nieces of Mrs. Wallace Webb, 122 S. Main street, Clintonville, returned home last week after a week's visit with their aunt. They are the daughters of Mrs. Christina Lally, New York City, and the late John Lally.

The girls have been seen on several television shows and also on commercials. They have a busy schedule of modeling and acting, and have been on a promotion tour.

They came to Clintonville for a visit upon completing their Chicago engagement, and left via North Central Airlines to spend the holidays at home. After the first of the year, they will leave for Omaha, Neb.

Modeling at 2

Mrs. Webb said her nieces started modeling work at the age of 2 in a fashion show. They currently are associated with the Kenneth Modeling agency of New York, but do free lance work on television.

Among their television credits are lead roles in the Kraft Theater shows of "Melody Jones" and "The Great Big Doorstep." They also were in Robert Montgomery's production of "Kitty Foyle" and Eva and Caroline.

Being identical twins does have some compensations, the girls said, in that both are able to play the same role without the audience realizing it.

Studying Dramatics

Joanne and Janet are studying dramatics with a private coach, Alice Young, who has coached Julie Harris, Bess Myerson and Jennifer Jones, among others. They are very serious about their dramatic careers, and while they have no immediate plans for separating, they are prepared to go separate ways for individual careers if the opportunity arises in the dramatic line.

Other television shows on which the Lally twins have appeared include the Hit Parade, the Arthur Murray show, the Jackie Gleason show, the Perry Como show, and special General Motors presentations.

In Good Taste

Woman Did Right to Call Friend

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I belong to a bridge club and last night the meeting was at my house. I went shopping in the afternoon and when I returned home my mother told me that a friend of mine had called and said that she was coming over to see me that night. I immediately called her back to tell her that I was having the bridge club at my house and asked her to come another night. My mother thinks that I was wrong to call her and tell her not to come. It has been bothering me and I would like to know if you think I was wrong.

Answer: No you were quite right. Telephoning her not to come was the only thing you could do. I do not quite understand why your mother did not tell her it was your bridge club night when she first telephoned.

Query on Service

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste for a guest who wants something at the table to speak directly to the maid who is serving, or should she address the hostess, and let her instruct the maid?

Answer: If the maid is within easy speaking distance, she should say to her, "I'd like another piece of bread, please" — or whatever she may want, since this is least disturbing. But if the maid is not in the room, then it is necessary, of course, to tell the hostess what she wants, and she then rings for the maid and gives the order.

Too Soon

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister died less than a month ago. Another sister of mine will celebrate her 50th birthday soon and her son and his wife are planning a large surprise party for her. I think it is much too soon to give such a party and that it would be very lacking in respect. What is your opinion?

Answer: I agree with you that it is too soon after the death of your sister to have a party of any size.

Our Children
Liquor Adds Nothing to Young People's Parties

BY ANGELO PATRI
The college students are home for the holidays and their friends are going to welcome them and celebrate the coming year by giving them parties. Nothing could be more in order.
Young people need parties, need to get together to talk. Let's not serve strong drink in any form. That is precisely what the young people do not need.
It makes them loud and noisy and there are people who think noise indicates a successful party. It doesn't.
Big Responsibility
If a carload of young people who left a party at 2 in the morning smashes into a tree and destroying some of them immediately and leaving others critically hurt, is not some of the blame for the terrible accident to be laid to the host and hostess of that party? It was they who served the punch with the strong liquor in it and stood by while the youngsters drank the bowl dry. That is a terrible responsibility to undertake.
"But they want it. They think the party will be a flop without it. All the 'others' will serve it." That's no reason at all. All the others are not serving it and if they were what has that to do with the conscience of the hosts?
Serve a punch filled with cologne, mixed fruit juices, ginger ale, orange, lemon, pineapple, pomegranate, what good tasting juice appeals to the taste and imagination. Serve it from a fine big bowl, with a silver ladle, in pretty glasses—with a smile in every glass.
Few young people really like strong drink. If it is served at a party some, quite unused to it are likely to get into trouble with it, and those who are in the habit of drinking it are far better off without it on this occasion.

To the girls: Do not, for your own sake, approve the strong drink for the party. Do not, for your life's sake, get into a car with a driver who has been drinking. And of course, you set the pattern by refusing it politely saying simply, "No thank you" with a smile accompanying the refusal. On you rests some of the responsibility for what happens at the holiday party.

Take Care of Shrubs, Plants
During Freezing Winter Days
BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Chappaqua, N. Y. — Often, looking out of the window on to the leafless winter landscape, I wonder if there is, anywhere, a weekend gardener who really completes his outdoor winterizing job.
In preparation for the season of ice, snow and cutting winds, I was ready with leaf and peat mulches and spread them on the garden beds when we had our first solid freezing days early in December.
I filled in holes and low spots around the trees and shrubs so that water would not collect to freeze, thaw and heave roots.
I hauled some clean sand and have it handy for throw-around to one of the most fining on walks and driveways—providing a burlap screen, please, we have enough trouble growing grass in those areas and salt is a killer.)
More Chores
So, now with the weather bitter much of the time, when the soil is like granite, there are still some left-over chores to be done.
For instance, I never did get around to putting stakes and guy lines to prop and protect the two small hawthorns I planted last spring, as well as the four young pin oaks. I did provide that protection for the evergreen seedlings year after year, because of their need, are more likely to collect a heavy, bending burden of snow and—worse—ice.
And I also failed to get inspection tours
Winter chores don't seem to change much from year to year. There are the weekly inspection tours of the plant-dies, to make sure that the roots of the perennials have not been frost heaved.
There is the job of looking

A woman puts her heart into readying her home for the holidays and then five minutes after Santa's arrival, it becomes a mare's-nest of wrapping paper, package trimmings and excelsior. What's to do? Let's face it, a certain amount of clutter is part of the fun. A little debris lends atmosphere. But it does have to be controlled or the clean-up becomes a major job.
Control methods need not should not smack of the over-fussy house frau. And it actually is possible to make gaieties of them. Here are some ideas:
As a catch-all, cover a large carton with brick-pattern crepe paper and give it a handle of gold cord.
To sweep up oddments, use a shiny new dustpan and brush, festively tied with red ribbon. To whisk away spills, use a gay sponge mop and plastic pail, preferably a double-pail with suds and rinse water compartments.
Slash a red dust cloth in the living room for quick touch-ups.
Wear a red apron (of the drip-dry variety, of course) as you tidy, and you will look like Mrs. Santa!

home of his parents—Mr. and Mrs. George Weyenberg, route 1, Kaukauna.

No Christmas tree had been set up in the home, but some gifts for the six children were destroyed.

Heartbroken parents and grandparents today sadly took gifts from cupboards at the grandparents' home, where they had been stored. Mrs. Weyenberg was placed under sedation and her husband was unable to talk to fire investigators today.

Within hours of the news, spectators and curiosity-seekers became a problem in the Harrison street area. Police barricaded the street. They counted more than 600 cars passing the area Sunday afternoon.

Donations Sought

A large milk can bearing a crudely-lettered sign — "Let's help the Weyenbergs" — was placed at the entrance to Harrison street. Many of the passers-by contributed funds.

Firemen and policemen received calls through most of Sunday as people asked where donations of money, clothing, furniture and food could be made. The Red Cross investigated the needs of the family.

The offers to help poured in from Kaukauna and from residents in all areas of the Fox river valley.

The tragedy was the worst in Outagamie county history. The last fire death in Kaukauna was last year when a woman's clothing caught fire. The previous worst single fire killed three children in Black Creek Dec. 20, 1958—another Christmas season tragedy.

Funeral for Six Children Is Wednesday

Funeral services for the six Floyd Weyenberg children who died in a fire at their Kaukauna home early Sunday morning will be at 10 a. m. Wednesday morning at Holy Cross Catholic church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fargo Funeral home after 4 p. m. Tuesday.

The children are Lynn, 7; Douglas, 6; Margaret, 5; John, 3; Barbara, 2, and Michael, 1.

Survivors include the parents; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dorsey, route 3, Appleton; a paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Weyenberg, route 1, Appleton.

Slain Man Had $87,000 In Insurance

St. Louis — (U) — "That insurance—Jim and I didn't take it out for now. We hoped to have children . . ."

Thus the attractive young widow of James S. Bullock, victim of a mysterious killer Wednesday night, began her explanation of why there was so much insurance on her husband's life.

Police said the policies totaled about $87,000. The biggest policy, issued Sept. 19, guaranteed a $23,000 mortgage on the duplex home they bought after their marriage six months ago.

"We were both ambitious," said Mrs. Edna Ruth Bullock, 23-year-old kindergarten teacher. "Jim was always a hard worker."

Hunt Solution

Police have collected a multitude of clues but still apparently are far from solving the slaying. Bullock, a Union Electric Co. clerk, left his home at 7 p. m. Wednesday to attend night classes at St. Louis university.

Half an hour later passing motorists found him dying of gunshot wounds, sprawled in a road in front of the city art museum 300 feet from his car, parked with motor running.

Yesterday Mrs. Bullock complained of pains in the left arm and chest and went to a hospital for X-ray and electrocardiograph tests. The results were not disclosed but she said later she will testify at an inquest tomorrow unless her doctors advise against it.

Mrs. Bullock blacked out while submitting to a police lie detector test Thursday, she said, and it was not completed. She also underwent extensive police questioning Thursday, "the most horrible day of my life."

The 5-foot-1 Mrs. Bullock, showing the strain of the days since her 27-year-old husband was found dying in Forest Park, could offer no reason for the slaying.

"I don't have any theories," she said. "I just can't imagine it happening."

She wanted to emphasize, she said, that they were not heavily in debt — "no more than most young couples."

Union Members Clear Leader of Local's Charges

Pittsburgh — (U) — Fellow union members have exonerated Donald C. Rarick of charges he promoted dual unionism within the United Steelworkers union as leader of a rank and file protest movement against increased dues.

The 39-year-old Rarick, a heat treator at the nearby Irvin works of U.S. Steel corporation, was cleared yesterday at a membership meeting of USW Local 2227. He is president of the 3,500-member local.

Members voted $7-7 in favor of a recommendation by a 5-man trial board that the charges be dropped. The panel heard accusations against Rarick Dec. 1 and 2.

Rarick is chairman of the so-called dues protest committee. It was formed by union members in 1956 in protest against an increase in dues from $3 to $5 a month.

The dual unionism charges, brought originally by 11 members of Local 2227, claimed

Monday, Dec. 22, 1958 Appleton Post-Crescent A18

Rarick worked against the ship. He was accused of at best interests of the USW in tempting to set up another union organized effort to oppose the will of the union member—the USW.

New Observatory May Guide Space Vehicles

Equipment Might Help Scientists Peer
30 Billion Light Years Back Into Time

Big Pine, Calif. — (U) — They've dedicated a $14 million radio observatory near here that some day may track and guide space ships as they speed far out into the universe.

It's believed also that once both of the observatory's two 90-foot dish antennas are in operation scientists will be able to peer 30 billion light years back into time and space.

Goldfine Gets Jail Sentence For Contempt

gressional subcommittee, at frequent court appearances at Boston in which Goldfine or his textile companies were involved in contempt proceedings.

Goldfine and Miss Paperman were convicted of criminal contempt. Civil contempt charges were dismissed.

Goldfine also faces civil contempt charges brought by the securities exchange commission.

Goldfine also is scheduled for trial in Washington, March 16 on charges of contempt of congress for failure to answer questions about his financial affairs.

Immediately after the sentencing Goldfine was fingerprinted.

Wyzanski said that only recently in a case in which Goldfine and one of his companies was cited for contempt, the company was fined $30,000. "But I thought personally that you should not be fined" in that case.

"However," he said, "you gained familiarity with the risks of contempt at that time."

U.S. Atty. Anthony Julian had recommended that Goldfine be given a six months prison sentence and fined $10,000. He recommended a two-months term for Miss Paperman.

The sentences are to be served at a prison to be selected by the U.S. attorney general.

James W. Kelleher, Goldfine's chief counsel, had urged there be no imprisonment. He pleaded there was "no flouting of the court's authority," and "no flagrant violation of the court's orders."

Look Back

Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett II, chief of naval research, told a dedication audience Friday: "This observatory may be able to reach far enough back into time to see our own world as it was billions of years ago—perhaps while it was still being formed."

The admiral was referring to the Einstein concept that time and space are like a doughnut—that if you go far enough and fast enough you come back where you started. And, since you are sneaking up from behind, you get there prior to the time of your departure.

A light year represents the distance that a beam of light—racing along at 186,000 miles per second—travels in a year.

The farthest man has been able to see out into the universe thus far is two billion light years. This is the range of the 200-inch Hale telescope on Mount Palomar in San Diego county.

The Distortion

Actually, there isn't much point in building a bigger visual telescope because of the distortion of light waves by the earth's atmosphere. But the atmosphere has no effect on radio telescopes.

Even now, with only one of this observatory's antennas in operation, radio signals have been picked up from stars a billion light years away.

When the second 90-foot mesh dish is ready next spring, observatory Director John G. Bolton expects to begin receiving radio impulses from stars up to 30 billion light years away.

The observatory will be able not only to receive radio impulses over tremendous distances, but send them as well. That's where the tracking and guiding of space ships comes in. It's also where the navy's interest is keen.

May the serenity which embraced the humble manger that first Christmas night fill your heart today . . . and may the faith, hope and cheer of that holy night abide with you. and yours throughout the year to come.

Call Bids for 6-Room Addition to School

Menasha — Bids for a 6-classroom addition to St. John Catholic Grade school were called Sunday by the church's building committee. Bids are due at the office of George Narovec, Appleton architect, no later than 4 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 6. The bid will be opened and tabulated at 8 p.m. that night by the committee. There were enough classrooms this year but a short-ditch is aimed for Sept. 1, 1959. Final plans for the addition were approved Sunday. The addition will be built on the front part of the present building. About 75 parishioners voted unanimously to build the addition in preference to dropping kindergarten and first grade classes in the September of 1959.

Schools Had No Fire Hazards

Buildings Found In Excellent Shape During Inspection

Neenah — No serious fire hazards exist in any of the public and parochial schools, Fire Chief John Zick said today. He has completed his check of all public schools, made with Earl Brien, supervisor of school properties, and of all parochial schools. The chief said he was very pleased with the inspection since there was nothing serious found and said conditions were quite safe. He made a few suggestions of a minor nature which were taken care of promptly by school custodians. The chief described the schools as being in excellent condition. The chief added the schools are inspected regularly by firemen and the last inspection was the result of the recent tragic Chicago school fire.

Neenah Schools Will Not Close For Bomb Scares

Steps Taken to Protect Children During Searches

Neenah — Public schools will not close for any more bomb scares and consideration is being given for making up time that might be lost during investigations, city officials announced today. Mayor Chester S. Bell announced a reward of $100 will be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person found guilty of attempting such a hoax hereafter. The mayor called a meeting Friday afternoon of city and school officials to discuss last Thursday night's bomb scare which closed the Neenah schools as well as most others in Winnebago county. At the meeting were Paul Groth, board of education president; Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes, Fire Chief John Zick, Police Chief Irving Stimp, Police Capt. Clarence Toeppfer, City Atty. James Dinius and Mayor Bell. Commend Prompt Action The school board, police and fire departments were commended for the prompt and vigorous action taken to protect the school children and to reassure their alarmed parents. The mayor pointed out that recent bombings, which have shocked the nation, have usually arisen out of violent racial, religious or labor controversies, none of which exist in Neenah. The group felt the recent "warnings" were the work of misguided pranksters. After lengthy discussion, the city officials issued the following statement: "We deplore the recent wave of bomb warnings which have given parents and teachers needless worry and have disrupted school programs. Obviously, these 'warnings' come from pupils craving excitement and hoping for an unearned holiday from school work. No criminal planning a hideous crime like a school bombing would increase the risks of detection by telephoning a warning in advance. An honest citizen desiring to pre-

Car, Train Collide; Two Youths Hurt

Oshkosh Pair Receive Head Injuries in Crash

Oshkosh — Two Oshkosh youths are in Mercy hospital as a result of an accident at 3:49 p.m. Sunday in which their car was struck by a Soo Line train at the West 10th avenue crossing in Oshkosh. A car driven by Roderick W. Wood, 19, route 3, Oshkosh, was struck and witnesses said the vehicle was spun around tossing Wood and his companion Floyd Taylor, 17, Oshkosh, out of the car. Wood suffered head and back injuries and Taylor suffered head injuries. Witness told police the flashing signals at the crossing were working at the time of the mishap but they did not see any brake lights on Wood's car. Unable to Appear Wood has been charged with disregarding the warning signals and causing an accident. He was unable to appear in Municipal court this morning. An Oshkosh squad car sent to investigate the accident was involved in a mishap at the intersection of Ninth and Ohio streets. Damage was slight. Erwin Bahr, Oshkosh, struck a car driven by Ralph Wachtveit, which had stopped for a train switching at Marion and Jackson streets at 1:30 a.m. Sunday. The impact pushed Wachtveit's car 160 feet across the tracks. Bahr's car continued across the tracks and side-swiped the Wachtveit vehicle again. Bahr was taken to Mercy hospital for treatment of a cut lip. He was unable to appear in municipal court this morning as he is being held at the hospital for chest X-rays. He has been charged with drunken driving.

While the Rush of outgoing mail may be just about over, carriers face a couple more days of heavy work with the last minute flood of incoming mail, particularly late greetings. Sorting mail for carriers at Menasha are, left to right, Carl Beck, Albert Apitz and Harold Sifter. The Neenah carrier in the lower photo is Chester Reitz and the saddle bags of his mail cart are more than loaded with still other greetings remaining in the racks. Mail was delivered Sunday in both cities.

Three Fined as Tipsy Drivers

Licenses Revoked Of Two Appleton Men; Must Pay $100

Oshkosh — Three men were fined $100 and costs each when they pleaded guilty of drunken-driving before Judge S. J. Luchsinger in municipal court this morning. They were Eugene N. Griesbach, 27, route 2, Appleton; Charles O. Guenther, 72, 1500 Alicia drive, Appleton; and Heinz Sopel, 40, Milwaukee, who is employed in Neenah. All lost their driving privileges for a year. Griesbach was arrested by Winnebago county police on County Trunk PP at 12:09 Sunday morning, north of Lakeview mill by Winnebago county police after his car had gone off the roadway in several places and broke off several mailboxes. Firemen were called when anti-freeze leaked onto the motor and the steam looked like smoke. Guenther was arrested at 1:47 this morning at Highway 41 and 110 in the town of Oshkosh, traveling north on Highway 41 in the southbound lane. Sopel was arrested on Highway 114 at 7:45 Sunday night.

vent a crime would not make an anonymous phone call but would identify himself and give whatever specific evidence he possessed.

"Accordingly, upon receipt of similar 'warnings' hereafter the school board will not close the schools. With the aid of the police and fire departments, careful plans have been worked out for prompt and thorough investigation to protect fully all school children without shutting down the schools.

Consider Make-Up

"The board is presently considering the manner in which any time lost during the regular school day can be made up if the necessary investigation interrupts normal schedules. It has not yet decided whether extra-curricular activities, such as athletic and social events, shall be suspended, and if so, for how long."

It was brought out at the conference that the perpetrator of the Thursday night hoax is liable to a fine of $500 and a year's imprisonment in the county jail, or if a minor, confinement to the Waukesha School for Boys until he attains the age of 21.

Neenah police are perfectprompt detection of any offender attempting a similar offense. Upon his arrest he will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, police said.

Martin Williams, 29, 1112 E. Forest avenue, Neenah, was fined for hit and run driving on Tayco street Tuesday night. A car he was driving struck a truck driven by Kenneth Kettner, 500 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah.

Williams pleaded guilty of driving without a driving license and Police Justice Arthur Ales will pass sentence at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Milton Schmelein, 59, 391 Elm street, Menasha, pleaded innocent of driving a car which hit a parked car and his case was set for 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 7.

Michael Lauger, 18, 154 E. Forest avenue, Neenah, admitted speeding on Park street Saturday night and was fined $10 and costs.

$6,000 Damage Caused by Fire

Menasha — A fire at the J. M. Resch home, 333 Tayco street at 4:45 a.m. Sunday caused about $6,000 damage. Fire Chief Edward Heim said today.

Heim said defective wiring or sparks from a chimney caused the blaze, which started in the roof and spread to the attic and second floor of the 2-story home.

An unidentified neighbor called the fire department when he saw smoke coming from the house. Police awakened Resch, and his daughter, Bernice, and got them safely out of the house.

Firemen fought the blaze until 7 a.m.

Oshkosh Fireman Still in Hospital

Oshkosh — Assistant fire chief Julius Staerkel, remains in Mercy hospital with five broken ribs suffered in an accident on the way to a fire at Universal Foundry Friday.

Staerkel will be hospitalized indefinitely and will be off duty four to six months.

Libraries List Holiday Hours

Menasha — Marvin Melick, Menasha librarian, and Miss May Hart, librarian at Neenah, have announced the holiday library hours. Candidates for the degree of associate in applied sciences in electronics communications technology were Clement E. Schreier, Appleton, and James D. Chizek, Kaukauna. Thomas H. Suess, Menasha, received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in the electronics field.

Attending the graduation exercises were Suess' parents Mr. and Mrs. Rufin Suess, and his grandmother, Mrs. John Suess.

Prepare Treats For Christmas Caroling Parties

Oshkosh — There is still time to prepare treats for the caroling parties visiting neighborhoods before the Christmas holiday.

Neighborhood homemaker club has listed a recipe for Christmas apple candy made with one package lime, cherry or strawberry jello, one cup hot strained apple sauce, one cup sugar, three-fourths cup broken walnuts or one-half cup chopped almonds and powdered sugar.

Combine the apple sauce and sugar. Cook over low heat until very thick, about 15 minutes. Stir constantly to avoid scorching. Dissolve jello in hot apple sauce and add nuts.

Turn into a greased loaf pan and chill. When firm, cut in one inch squares and roll in powdered sugar. Let stand overnight at room temperature to dry. Roll in sugar again and store in two layers between wax paper in a covered container.

Lodge Holds Yule Program

Menasha — Betty Rebekah lodge held its Christmas party and program Friday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. Officers were in charge of a program honoring the noble grand, Mrs. Lawrence Terrio.

A reading was given by Mrs. Victor Fritz and songs sung by Mrs. E. W. Blohm, Mrs. James Rice, Mrs. Ruth Perras and Mrs. Lyle Parmenter.

Menasha Rubbish

Elks Plan New Year's Eve Party

Menasha — Neenah-Menasha Elks club will entertain members and guests at a New Year's Eve party Dec. 31 at the club.

A Fond du Lac orchestra will begin playing for dancing at 10 p.m. with a buffet lunch to be served at 12:30 a.m. Reservations can be made at the clubhouse. Arrangements for the party are being made by the social committee, headed by Richard Machamer.

Neenah-Menasha Grandparents club held its second annual holiday dinner party Sunday evening at Alex's Supper club. A party followed the dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Romnek, 841 State street, Menasha.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malinowski, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nollan, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hurley, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Redmond and Mr. and Mrs. Romnek.

Couple Wed In Chapel

Neenah — The chapel of the First Presbyterian church was the setting for the 11 a. m. Saturday marriage of Mrs. Meryle P. Bath and Donald L. Sissler, both of Oshkosh. Dr. John Bouquet officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Zella Fredricks was matron of honor and Dr. George H. Brannon, Winneconne, served as the bridegroom's attendant. A wedding breakfast was served at the Colonial Wonder Bar.

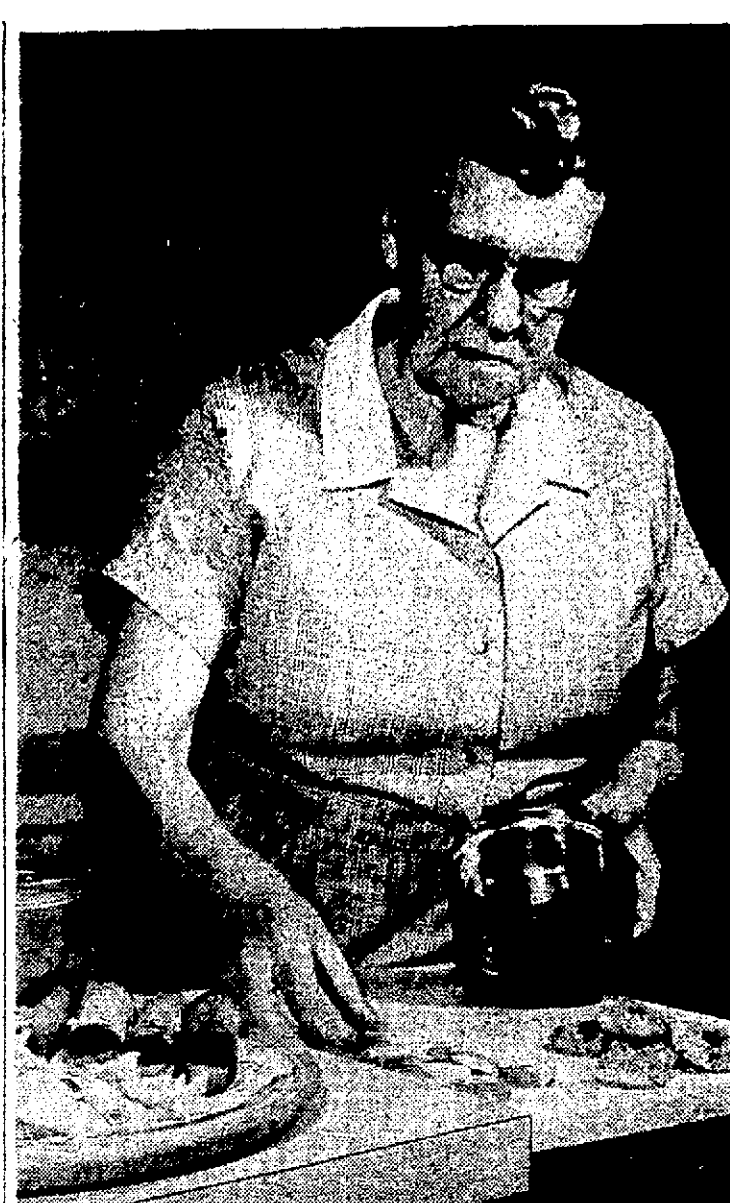

After a wedding trip to eastern states, the couple will reside at 511 W. Tenth avenue, Oshkosh.

The bride is credit manager at Theda Clark hospital and Mr. Sissler is president of the Keenline Equipment corporation.

St. Paul Choirs Hold Parties

Neenah — Two choirs at St. Paul's Lutheran church are caroling and holding holiday parties. The youth choir met Saturday afternoon at the home of the director, Mrs. Albert Goerlitz, 965 Reddin avenue, and members exchanged gifts. A supper was served and Mrs. Sigurd Madsen assisted.

The junior choir will carol at 1 p.m. today at Theda Clark hospital after which refreshments will be served at the church by Mrs. Goerlitz and Mrs. Roy Sorensen.

Cookies, including Scandinavian fatigmand bakkles and krumkaka, were packed for mailing in decorated containers by Mrs. J. O. Cummings, route 2, Neenah, as part of her traditional preparation for Christmas. Suet pudding, to be served for the Christmas day dinner by the rural homemaker is pictured in the lower photograph.

Area Scandinavian Cook Bakes Delicacies for Holiday Season

Neenah — Whipping across the snow to grandmother's house on Christmas day and entering a kitchen filled with the spicy fragrances of home-baked goodies seems to belong on a Currier and Ives print rather than in the present era.

The modern day "grandma" is more apt to store bakery trimmed sweets in her cookie jar, open a wax-paper wrapped loaf of bread and use a prepared mix for her holiday cake.

One area grandmother still clings to the Christmas baking traditions of her Scandinavian past, unwrapping the special tools to prepare the Norwegian and Swedish delicacies about three weeks before the family holiday dinner.

"Suet pudding is a must in our family for Christmas," says Mrs. J. O. Cummings, route 2, Neenah. She traces the recipe for the dish back to the days when her father was a lumberjack cook in northern Wisconsin. In addition to the steamed pudding for the Christmas day dinner, the housewife makes a pudding for each of her daughters, mailing one to Fullerton, Calif.

Ingredients for the dish, which is made about two weeks before the holiday and then stored in a cool place, are one cup suet, put through a chopper, one cup molasses, one cup sweet milk, two well-beaten eggs, two and one-half cups sifted flour, one half teaspoon soda, one rounded teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon all-spice, one-fourth teaspoon made, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup seeded raisins or one-half cup candied

Our Savior's Is Setting for Marriage Rites

Neenah — Our Savior's Lutheran church was the setting for the marriage at 2 p.m. Sunday of Mrs. Birgit Mesko, 234 Jackson street, and Howard Jape, 802 S. Commercial street. The Rev. Paul Rasmussen read the double ring ceremony.

A reception followed the wedding at Mrs. Mesko's home where the couple will reside and a family dinner was served at the Melody bar.

She is employed at Theda Clark hospital while her husband works for a Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Girl Scouts List December Events

Menasha — December projects of Girl Scout Troop 233 included assisting Mrs. Herman Meyer prepare doll gifts for needy children and making holiday gifts to their mothers.

Troop members caroled for patients at Sunset Haven Rest home recently and then held a party at the Frank Krizenek's home, 228 Sunset drive. Leaders are Mrs. Warren Whitlinger and Mrs. Norbert Redlin.

Shown Preparing for One of her current successes in the latest phase of her four-part career in the theater is Herione Gingold now appearing in "Gigi." She began her stage career as a child actress, later did heavy dramas, was a British comedienne during the war and is now in constant demand for American stage and television roles.

Hermione Gingold's Wit Delights TV Audiences

New York — Miss Hermione Gingold, late of London and now on her way to becoming an American citizen, recently was the guest on a radio interview show. Another guest, a Frenchman with Anglophobe tendencies, was making a mild attack on her native land.

"If the British are such a kind people," said the Frenchman "then why did they burn Joan of Arc at the stake?"

"Because they were cold," she replied instantly, calmly, and outrageously. The response was typical Gingold, and the sort of thing which has started a Gingold cult among television audiences all over the country.

Although Miss Gingold's spontaneous wit — she's in great demand for ad lib television shows — frequently borders on the Macabre, her delivery is terribly genteel, pear-shaped and lady-like. Last year accepting a motion picture Oscar for S. J. Perelman, she was so hilarious reading a letter of acceptance that she was signed instantly for a part in Gigi.

At the moment she is preparing to go into rehearsals for the musical version of "Fride and Prejudice" with Polly Bergen and Farley Granger which will come to Broadway in March, is a regular on TV's Jack Paar show, and turns up often on most of television's important variety shows.

What makes all of this remarkable is that the current American one is really the fourth theatrical career she has had in more than 40 years in show business.

Although she came from a non-theatrical family, she somehow wrangled a part at the ripe age of 12 in a London show called "Pinkie and the Fairies."

"I was an infant prodigy," confesses Miss Gingold. "Then the family snatched me back to try to give me some education. I was so dreadful in a regular school, they finally sent me to a dramatic school where I was divinely happy."

Retired Again

After that she started a second career: "Shakespeare and all that, but I retired from the theatre when I married and had a family."

The family consisted of two sons — both grown now and living in Britain — and some years later Miss Gingold, divorced, returned to the theatre, this time as a comedienne. She became a star, switched to revues and during World War II was one of the darlings of American soldiers.

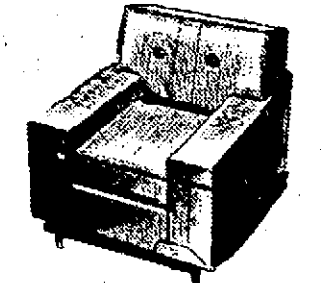

"I missed them so much that after the war I came to the United States," she said. "I love it here. A few months ago I took out my first papers — I think that when you plan to live somewhere and you become a part of a country, you should join up. I want to be an American. And I adore living in New York: It's a perfectly horrible place to visit, but it's a wonderful place to live."

Her career has been going great guns, particularly since exposure to television cameras. She lives — alone with her 12-year-old dog, Mr. Poodle — in a small apartment, on New York's East Side. Collecting is her hobby — blue china, primitive portraits, old-fashioned bouquets of artificial flowers and blackamoor lamps and plant stands — and the delightful apartment is full of her favorite specimens.

Coffee cans are painted and decorated by the rural homemaker and then filled with cookies to be mailed to family members. Among the goodies are fatigmand bakkles or "Poor Man's Cake."

Ingredients needed are three well-beaten eggs, three tablespoons sugar, three tablespoons sweet cream, a pinch of salt and enough flour to make a stiff dough. Roll out paper thin, cut in diamond shape, slitting the center and pulling the ends through. Drop into hot fat, one at a time. When cool, dust the pastry with powdered sugar.

Mrs. Cummings has acquired the necessary equipment for the Scandinavian dishes over the years and has decorated various other kitchen utensils with Swedish and Norwegian motifs, made in the rosemailing class at the Neenah Vocational and Adult school.

She has painted designs on other articles, such as a sleigh centerpiece and a spice shelf, for Christmas gifts. Before their marriage, Mr. Cummings wasn't fond of Scandinavian cookery. Through the years he has acquired a taste for the rich pastries and other foods, and now invites friends for meals of lutefisk and lefse, said the housewife.

Strong Final Quarter Gives Macs Victory

Menasha Beats
Hilbert 84-66
In League Match

Menasha — A strong fourth quarter sent the Menasha Macs on their way to an 84-66 Eastern Wisconsin Basketball league victory over Hilbert at Hilbert Saturday night.

The Menashans were held to a 19-all deadlock at the end of a period and were in front 91-35 at halftime. The winners added to their lead with a 16-13 edge in the third period and then sealed the verdict with a 27-18 advantage in the final segment.

John Chapleau scored 19 points on nine baskets and a free throw to lead the Menasha attack. Dick Rohe scored 13.

Dick Eickert led Hilbert and game scorers with his 26 points, garnered on 11 baskets and four free throws.

The victory was the sixth straight in league play for the Menashans and kept them on top of the pack. They draw a bye in the 9-team circuit next week and play at Denmark Jan. 3.

The Macs will close first round play with a home game against Kiel Jan. 4.

The Macs also will compete in the league tournament at Chilton Feb. 4-5 and 7-8. Pairings will be announced after the Jan. 4 set of games is completed.

"Everything for the Lads and Their Dads"

Traveling Team Cops 62-50 Win Over Holy Name

Neenah — A cold shooting St. John Holy Name basketball team failed to hit the hoop with any consistency and dropped its third game in 23 starts to the Kansas City Stars, 62-50, at the St. John gym Sunday night. The encounter got off on a serious note and Kansas City didn't do any clowning until there was about 60 seconds left in the first half. The Stars led 39-18 at that time. Kansas City got off on the right foot by taking an early 3-0 lead. St. John was never closer than four points behind during the first period and were six points in arrears when the quarter ended.

Kansas Hot. The visitors were able to drop 17 markers to only four for St. John during the first seven minutes of the second period as Marv Roberts, Kansas' 6-6 forward, and Jerry Don, a 6-foot guard, each hit three goals in a row. The Holy Name squad was behind 39-22 at the half, lost more ground in the third quarter and trailed 51-33, and picked up 17 points to 11 for the visitors in the final frame. St. John had to give away quite a few inches in height as the Stars averaged 6-3, with Ken Connelly their big man at 6-7. Bob Jedwabny, St. John

Zephyrs Chalk Up Convincing 70-35 Win Over Marinette '5'

Register 27-7 Edge in 4th Frame; Batley Tops Scorers

Marinette — Outsourcing its opponent by 20 points in the last period, St. Mary registered a 70-35 triumph over Marinette Catholic Central here Saturday night. The triumph was the fourth straight for the Menashans in Fox Valley Catholic conference play and assured them of undisputed possession of first place at the close of the 1958 portion of the schedule. Victory certainly came a lot easier for the Zephyrs, than in their last conference start when they had to close fast to whip Premontre. For the young Marinette team, it was their poorest showing of the campaign. The Cavaliers now have a 3-3 record but before Saturday, night their worst loss was by seven points in the 78-71 defeat to Premontre. The hosts were clamped down with only 10 baskets and seven were made by Bob Pecotte, last year's conference scoring champ. Center Don Cook, who averaged 20 points in his first league start, was held to a pair of free throws and only one player, aside from Pecotte had more than three points. He was Ken Johnson, who made six. St. Mary, on the other hand, had three boys in the double figures. Gary Batley led the attack with 24 points on nine baskets and six free throws. Dean Schreiner and Pete Vanderhyden each made 15 markers. Paced by Vanderhyden's five points, St. Mary rambled to a 14-6 first quarter lead. With Batley hitting four baskets and two free throws, St. Mary chalked up 18 points in the second frame to Marinette's 13 for a 32-19 halftime margin. The slow-moving third period saw St. Mary post an 11-9 edge to up its advantage to 43-28. The final segment was all St. Mary with a 27-point outburst to seven for the Cavaliers. Schreiner hit 10 points and Batley had nine to account for 19 of the 27. The winners tallied 27 baskets and had a good 16 for 21 from the free throw line. Marinette didn't make the most of its free throw opportunities and connected on only 15 of 31 charity chances. The Zephyrs fouled 25 times. The win was the fourth straight for the Zephyrs and upped their record to 5-3 for the season. They resume play against St. Benedict of Milwaukee next Sunday at the Appleton St. Joseph gym.

Zephyrs Entertain St. Benedict's Sunday

Menasha — St. Mary will play St. Benedict of Milwaukee at 3 p.m. Sunday at St. Joseph's gymnasium, Appleton. The Zephyr JV squad will play St. Benedict's JV's at 1:30 p.m.

Wausau Trims Trotter Quint In UW League

Menashans Trail By 27 at Half in 77-34 Reversal

Menasha — Wausau remained atop the pack in the University of Wisconsin Extension division conference by taking an easy 77-34 win over Menasha here Saturday night. The Lumberjacks boast a 6-1 conference record to 1-5 for the Trotters. Wausau advanced to a 44-17 halftime lead and was in control all the way. Coach Bob Mansfield didn't use several of his starters at all in the second half while the others saw only brief action. The game was the last for Menasha until Jan. 10 when it entertains Marinette in what will be its only tilt of the month. The box score:

Kimberly CYO Tips St. John

Papermakers Rally In Fourth Period For 52-36 Win

Menasha — Holy Name Kimberly kept its unbeaten string intact by tripping St. John's CYO 52-36 in a league game here Sunday. The Papermakers have won six straight and used a blistering 24 point rally in the final quarter to trip St. Johns. It was the first loss for St. John. Menasha had a 32-28 lead going into the final period but the Papermakers exploded for 11 field goals while limiting the losers to a pair of buckets. Kimberly led 10-7 at the end of the first quarter but St. John came back with 17 in the second frame while the Papermakers added another 10. Both teams scored eight in the third quarter. # Neenah Lions Give Toys to 80 Children

Neenah — Neenah Lions club will complete its Christmas giving program this week with presentation of food baskets to two needy Neenah families. Over the weekend, toys contributed by the Lions went into baskets packed by the Christmas Giving committee of the Community Council of Neenah-Menasha for distribution in the Twin Cities. About 80 children will receive toys in this manner. Clearing for the baskets and toys was accomplished through the Neenah-Menasha Family Service, Inc., to prevent duplication.

On the Neenah Lions toy committee were Keith Holander and Peter Koteski, while members of the auxiliary assisted in wrapping the articles. Basket distribution was handled by Milton Boehm and Howard Boehm.

Rural Neenah Youth Gets Post In UW Program

Oshkosh — Lyle Miller, route 2, Neenah, has been elected vice president of this year's short course farm program at the University of Wisconsin, according to Vernon Peroutky, county agent.

Miller is in his final phase of a two year course.

Members of the editorial staff of the course newsletter include Ulrich Boss, route 3, Oshkosh, and James and Michael Salm, route 2, Neenah.

There are nine youths from Winnebago attending the program. The county has the second highest enrollment, topped only by Dane with 11.

Approximately 200 young farmers are enrolled in the course at the present time. The farm short course is voluntary residential education with three terms each year.

The Bergstrom Paper Company chorus caroled at the homes of local company retirees again this year. The group, numbering 32 voices, travelled by chartered bus visiting 19 homes in Neenah and Menasha. They are shown above at the home of Fred Steinway, 706 Higgins avenue, Neenah.

Brighten Meals By Adding Wine To Soup Mixes

Those wonderful convenience foods (canned soup, in this instance) plus a dash of imagination (wine, for example) can brighten many a hurried meal these busy days.

Try the simplest technique of all—adding part wine, part water to canned condensed soups. Or further enhance the flavor by mixing two or more soups with wine and other seasonings.

Here are some suggestions to guide your own experiments:

Menashan Cited By Ripon ROTC

Sherried Tomato Bouillon

To serve six, mix and heat two cans condensed bouillon and one and one-half cups tomato juice; add one-half cup Sherry and two tablespoons finely chopped parsley. Good with shredded wheat wafers which have been buttered, sprinkled with Parmesan cheese, and heated in the oven.

Mix one can condensed pea soup, one can condensed mushroom soup, one and one-half cups rich milk, one teaspoon grated onion and one-fourth teaspoon curry powder; heat just to simmering. Stir in one-third cup Sherry. Pour into heated soup bowls or cups and garnish with minced parsley or chives.

A graduate of Menasha High school, Osiewalski serves as a company commander with the grade of cadet captain.

Tangy Cranberry Relish for Meats

Chop raw cranberries with other fruits to make a wonderful relish for serving with turkey, chicken, duck or ham.

This relish has an extra advantage in that it can be made ahead and be stored in the refrigerator.

One suggestion is to mix two pounds of chopped cranberries with crushed pineapple (No. 2 can, drained) and one-half cup sugar. Chill at least eight hours.

HEADACHE IS A SYMPTOM; CAUSE LIES DEEPER

By Upton X. Furman Chiropractor, Neenah

Just a few centuries ago it was believed that headaches were caused by little devils prodding the brain with forks, and the treatment consisted of driving them out. In this generation there has been a great deal of theory substituted for the devils, and pain-killing drugs have lessened the effect of their work. Yet very little factual evidence has been submitted as to the cause of headaches.

Through Chiropractic adjustments the cause of headaches is found and removed resulting in complete recovery in most cases, even to the supposedly incurable migraine type. Try Chiropractic for your health.

Tangerines Set the Holiday Mood . . . they are wonderful as stocking stuffers, fitting snugly in the toe of each Christmas sock. They make colorful decoration for a fruit bowl, handy for eating. Like their sister citrus fruits, tangerines are rich in Vitamin C, excellent for use in steamed puddings, gelatin salads, sauces and as toppings.

A sincere thanks for your loyal patronage throughout the year and a heartfelt wish from all of us at Stadtmueller's that this holiday season be one that you will always look back on with the greatest of pleasure.

Hams Cost More But Turkeys Lower;
Most Produce Bears Reasonable Tags

Christmas dinner probably will cost about the same as it did last year. Although hams are a few cents higher this year, turkeys are a few cents lower and the food shopper will be able to get some bargains not available last year.

Wisconsin potatoes, for instance.

Fruits and vegetables are about the same price as last holiday season.

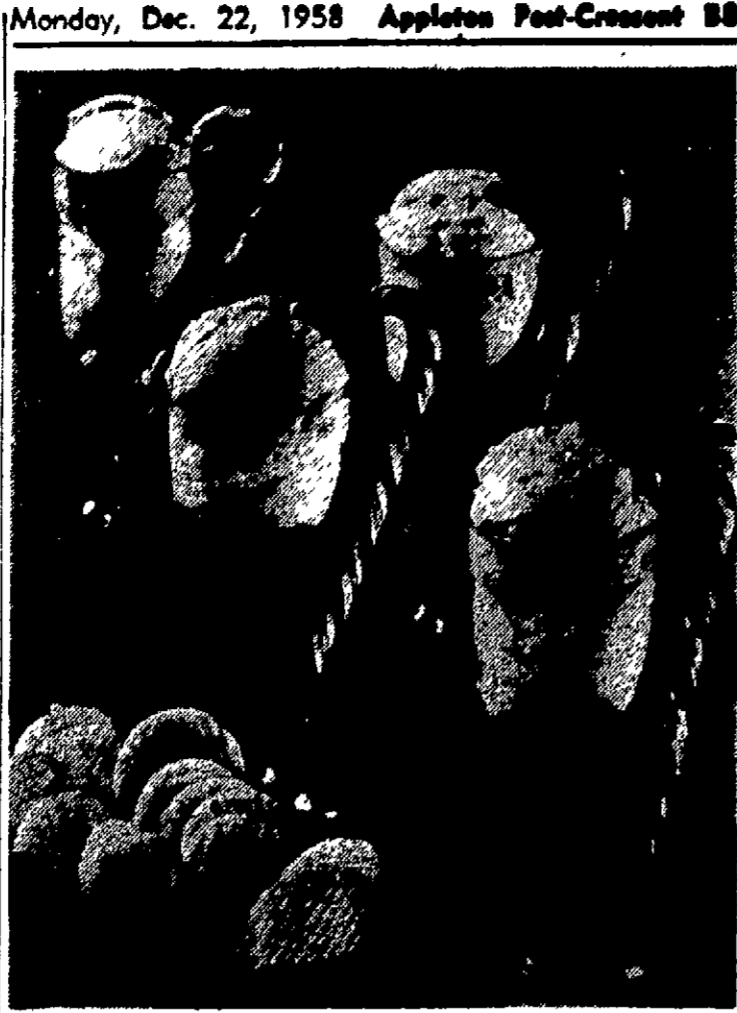

Turkeys are by far the best buy for the main dish of the year. Prices are about the same as at Thanksgiving, ranging from 37 cents a pound for larger toms to 49 cents a pound for the smaller broilers.

Hams range from 65 cents for 10 to 12 pounders to 57 cents a pound for 12 to 16 pounders.

Smaller items going to serve a few people, frying chickens range from 29 to 39 cents a pound and smaller picnic hams are about 30 cents a pound.

Other meats remain high priced. A sampling shows pork chops from 79 to 89 cents, pork steak from 45 to 55 cents, pork loin roasts upward from 55 cents, spare ribs at 49 cents, sirloin from 79 to 89 cents, round steak from 79 to 89 cents, shoulder veal steak at 79 cents and leg of lamb at 79 cents a pound.

Citrus fruits, apples and cranberries are tops on fruit counters. Both white and pink meat grapefruit are 10 for 59 cents, tangerines are good at about 35 cents a dozen for a

Good Mixers for Holiday Treats

Open House recipes that may be prepared in advance are welcome ideas for the holiday hostess. Here are two of them.

Remove the skin and seeds from two ripe avocados. Mash in bowl with fork. Blend in one cup sour cream, two tablespoons chili sauce and one teaspoon salt. Stir in one cup cooked shrimp, chopped. Serve in bowl in center of tray surrounded with potato chips, pretzels and crisp crackers.

Party Mix
Combine three-fourths cup melted butter; three-fourths teaspoon each of garlic salt, onion salt and Monosodium glutamate; one-half teaspoon celery salt; one and one-half tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, and one-eighth teaspoon Tabasco sauce.

Place in large roasting pan; seven cups crisp, crunchy cereal, one cup broken pretzel sticks and two cups salted mixed nuts.

Pour seasoned butter over cereal mixture, toss lightly to coat. Bake at 275 degrees for one hour, stirring every 10 minutes.

Crisp edges from cake and roll; cool. Unroll cake and spread with canned mince-meat; reroll. Cut into 1-inch slices. Garnish with a spoonful of whipped cream, if desired.

Cookies are an important part of the Christmas holiday hospitality... as much a part of the happy childhood memories as the scent of pine and the sound of carols. In the upper picture are the rich, buttery Norwegian Christmas cookies. Above are several types of vanilla cookie creations, good for Christmas giving or holiday serving. The traditional German Christmas cookies, the pfeffernuss also has become a popular tradition in American homes during the yuletide season.

Christmas Cookies Yuletide Tradition

Christmas time is cookie time. Gaily decorated cut-out cookies become part and parcel of the holiday. Cookies may be hung for decoration—on the tree, mantel or in a window. They may be packaged and given away as most welcome gifts. They always are kept on hand for holiday callers.

The German Christmas cookie, the pfeffernuss, is a delightful concoction that rapidly is becoming a traditional American treat. The recipe follows:

Pfeffernuss
1-2 cup butter
1-2 cups granulated sugar

Squash Baked With Green Lima Beans
Give the meal a special touch with a new vegetable combination. Large halved acorn squashes filled with canned green lima beans are delicately seasoned with poultry seasoning. The meal is especially attractive served on a large chop plate or platter.

Limas in Squash Halves
2 large acorn squashes
3 tablespoons butter
1 can (1 lb.) green lima beans
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
Cut squashes in half and remove seeds. Bake, cut side down in a 350-degree oven. Turn and dot with two tablespoons of butter. Continue baking until squashes are done and lightly browned.

Combine one-fourth cup liquid from limas, drained limas, seasonings and remaining tablespoon of butter; heat. Serve squash halves filled with limas.

Cookies may be rolled in powdered sugar immediately after removal from oven.
Of all the foreign Christmas recipes, one of the most delightful is the Norwegian Christmas Tree cookie.

Norwegian Christmas Tree Cookies
1 1/2 cups butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
2 eggs, slightly beaten
4 cups sifted flour
1 egg white
1 tablespoon sugar
Place butter in bowl and allow to soften. Add sugar, lemon rind and eggs. Mix thoroughly. Stir in flour. Chill dough.
Roll out chilled dough 1/4-inch thick and cut with Christmas tree shaped cookie-cutter. Combine egg white and sugar and beat well. Brush tops of cookies with this mixture.
Decorate with green sugar and tiny candy balls in the Christmas colors of silver and red.
An unusual recipe is the carrot cookie that really uses diced carrots in its making. Here are the directions:

Carrot Cookies
2 cups cooked diced carrots
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Atlantic Divides Little in Politics

Successful Parties Think Similarly In Both Britain, United States

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
London — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's ruling conservative party, which continues to look stronger than its labor opposition, is depending on a strictly middle-road approach to maintain its power.

White
This is made plain, in conversations with top people in the government.

Indeed, there is a curiously strong and unexampled parallel between the political views and technique of the conservatives here and of the controlling "moderate" Democrats at home.

World Trade
If the conservatives win again, the two great countries of the west will be in control of centrist and highly professional politicians. For in Washington it is fair to say the real operating power in our government has largely passed from Eisenhower White House to the muddling Democrats who will run the new congress.

Both sets of dominant politicians, here and at home, basically believe that a freer and ever-enlarging world trade is perhaps the best guarantee for the future of the west.

Temper Demands

On the other hand, this government will not allow demands for more welfareism to push it so far to the left as to leave it trying to out-labor the Labor party.

What is very odd about it all is this: for some reason successful politics has come to mean about the same thing on both sides of the Atlantic. This is a practice of performing more or less in the interests of a majority of the people and of forgetting all about the demands of the extremes on left and right.

Any Old Place Is Good Enough when a tot is tired. At least that's what 5-year-old Steve Wilson, Moline, Ill., thinks. While sister and brother browsed through the library Steve plopped himself down on the floor for a little cat nap. He didn't even bother to shed his heavy winter togs.

To Your Good Health
Too Much Liquid in Tissues Can Cause Swelling, Dropsy

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate your answers on some questions about the consumption of water or liquids. Is it possible for one to drink too much liquid, and if so, how much liquid would be too much? If drinking too much liquid, or any large amount, is detrimental, what are the dangers, if any? Is water fattening? Would it be safe to drink just as much liquid as one might feel like drinking in hot weather?—Thirsty."

When there is some degree of kidney disease. That is, the kidneys, being impaired, are unable to remove the water properly and rapidly enough. I cannot recall ever seeing or hearing of such a case except where known kidney disease existed.

2. The dangers are retention of water in the tissues, swelling or dropsy, which results from it, and a condition known as "wet brain," leading to convulsions.

hot weather? Yes! Thirst is a normal reaction of the body, necessary to our survival and health. In hot weather we lose a lot of moisture by perspiration. This is replaced by yielding to our thirst demands. When thirst has been satisfied, the desire to drink more water ceases.

So, getting back to your first question, when you have had enough you will feel full. Just how much is "too much" cannot be defined, but in any case—whether your kidneys are good or bad—you'll know when you have drunk enough.

Craves Pretzels
"Dear Dr. Molner: Why does a young girl, 26, always crave pretzels? She can't watch TV without eating a box of them.—Mrs. D."

This Sequence Shows the razzle-dazzle play that the New York Giants used to score the only touchdown in Sunday's Eastern-conference playoff game against Cleveland in Yankee stadium. As the play starts on the Browns' 19-yard line, quarterback Charley Conerly (42) hands off the ball to Alex Webster (29) who gives to Frank Gifford (16). With a good block by former Green Bay Packer Al Barry (68) Gifford breaks away to about the 12-yard line where he laterals to Conerly. Charley is chased by Cleveland's Bob Gain (79) but scores. The Giants won, 10-0.

Giants Win Eastern Crown

Qualify for NFL Title Game, 10-0

BY JACK HAND

New York — (AP) — Notre Dame had its "Four Horsemen," Fordham its Seven Blocks of Granite; now we have the "11 Hangmen of the New York football Giants."

The "11 Hangmen" who from the defensive unit of the Giants, tightened the noose around the neck of Jimmy Brown Sunday afternoon and sprung the trap on Coach Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns.

Because of their inspired defensive play and the opportunistic offense of Charley Conerly, Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Co., the Giants have won the Eastern conference title of the National Football league.

3 Badgers On Scholastic All-Loop '11'

Chicago — (AP) — The University of Wisconsin apparently has won an unofficial Big Ten football battle of the brains.

Wisconsin placed three players, more than any other league school, on the "Dean's Team," a Big Ten all-scholastic football team named Sunday by an encyclopedia company (American Peoples Encyclopedia).

The Badgers honored were guard Jerry Stalcup, a junior in physical education; half-back Bob Zeman, a junior in letters and science, and full-back Jon Hobbs, a senior in electric engineering.

Minnesota and Michigan State placed two men each on the "Dean's Team." Indiana, Ohio State, Purdue and Northwestern placed one player each.

The "Dean's Team" was selected from varsity players who had cumulative averages of "B" or better.

Warriors Welcome Powerful Xavier

Weary MU Dumps Creighton for Seventh Win in 19-Day Period

Milwaukee — (AP) — Marquette's weary Warriors, who have won seven of eight basketball games in a 19-day stretch, tonight encounter powerful Xavier of Ohio, which has won all five of its games.

The tattered Warrior attack was good enough to beat Creighton, 70-40, here Saturday night. The crowd of 4,326 in the Arena applauded when coach Ed Hickey benched his entire first string at one point in the first half.

"The kids were tired from so many games, and I guess I worked them a little too hard Friday," Hickey said after the Creighton game.

"With Xavier coming up Monday, we couldn't get worked up over this one."

Did Little Creighton, which lost to Marquette, 53-49, earlier in the season, did little to stimulate the Warriors Saturday night. The visiting Bluejays scored only 17 field goals and averaged just .236 from the floor. Marquette averaged .355, scoring 27 field goals.

The visitors took a 6-2 lead, but Marquette went ahead after four minutes and led the rest of the game. The Warriors led, 31-23, at the half.

Sophomore Don Kojis, with 13 points, led the scoring of the 17 Warriors who saw action. Mike Moran made 12 points, equalling the effort of Dick McMahon, who was high for Creighton. Kimberly's Bob Van Zealand scored four for Creighton.

Women's State Pin Meet Draws 5,826 for Singles

Green Bay — (AP) — A total of 5,826 entries in singles, second highest in the Wisconsin Women's Bowling association history, has been recorded for the group's fortieth annual tournament.

Other entries include 2,002 doubles and 1,887 teams.

The tournament will open Jan. 24 in Green Bay.

The all-time records for tourney entries were set in Milwaukee last year when there were 6,642 singles, 3,301 doubles and 2,308 teams.

Ripon Decisions Chicago, 62-55

Ripon — (AP) — Ripon's basketball Redmen ended their string of five losses Saturday by beating the University of Chicago, 62-55.

Hot-Shooting Ledgers Trim Chuters, 59-49

Hammen Collects 20 Points for Game Laurels

Little Chute — St. John High ran into a hot-shooting St. Mary's Springs team at Fond du Lac Saturday night and dropped a 59-49 Fox Valley Catholic conference contest.

The loss gives the Dutchmen an over-all record of 5-4 for the season and slid them into the second division of the conference with a 1-2 mark.

Springs, off to a fast start this campaign, has a 7-1 season slate and is 2-1 in loop play.

The Ledgers hit 44 per cent from the field, hitting 26 field goals. The Chuters had a 13 to 7 edge in free throws but could not match the sharp Springs shooting.

Wire 10 for 23

St. John hit a good 10 for 23 from the field in the first half (43 per cent) but faded in the last half with only eight buckets out of 27 shots.

Paul Kraemer and Gary Stinke each scored three baskets to send the Ledgers off to a 18-14 lead in the first quarter and Springs held command the rest of the way. Ed Hammen, the game's top scorer with 20 points, paced St. John in the initial frame—getting eight markers.

Springs added to the lead in the second quarter by hitting 17 points while the Chuters fell to 13. This gave Springs a 35-27 lead at the intermission.

South Bend Native

Kuharich's appointment was announced by the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, CSC, executive vice president and chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics at Notre Dame.

Kuharich, a South Bend native, began his coaching career for the Irish in 1938, the year of his graduation. He served as assistant freshman coach while taking graduate studies.

In 1940-41 he played football with the Chicago Cardinals and during the next four years served in the navy.

Returns to Coaching

He returned to coaching in 1946 as line coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers. He moved to the University of San Francisco in 1954 as line coach and became head coach of the club in August of that year.

In 1955, Kuharich was named professional coach of the year. Has been given a new, 5-year contract at Washington this year.

Terry Says He'd Consider Any Good Coaching Opportunity; MU Has Not Contacted Him Yet

Krause told the Indianapolis

South Bend, Ind. — (AP) — Terry Brennan, who lost his job as Notre Dame football coach, says he is interested in another coaching job.

Asked whether he would consider the head coach vacancy at Marquette university, Brennan said Sunday night:

"I'd be interested in any good coaching opportunity."

Brennan, who has a law degree, was asked what he would choose if identical opportunities came up in law or coaching.

"I'd stick to coaching," said Brennan.

17-Year-Old Boy Takes Lead in Peterson Classic

Chicago — (AP) — A father-and-son combination took the lead Sunday night in the $250,000 Peterson Bowling classic which extends through June 20 and carries a top prize of $20,000.

Wayne Zahn, a 17-year-old bowler from Milwaukee, took first place with an 8-game total of 1,593. His father, Earl, was second with 1,551. In third place was Augie Tapparo, Clinton, Ind., with 1,550.

The tournament is expected to attract more than 10,000 keglers.

Badgers Lose After Another 2nd Half Foldup

California Posts 68-53 Decision for Fifth UW Loss

Iowa City, Iowa — (AP) — California took advantage of another of Wisconsin's cold spells and whipped the basketball Badgers, 68-53, Saturday night in the University of Iowa fieldhouse.

In the other half of a doubleheader, Iowa lost an 81-68 decision to Washington, which had trounced the Badgers, 62-48, Friday night when the same four teams played on the Wisconsin campus in Madison.

The loss was Wisconsin's fifth in seven non-conference games, and the Badgers' trouble was their familiar lack of scoring in the second half.

Five Times

The Badgers were tied with California five times in the first half before the Bears went ahead, 30-26, at the intermission.

With 12 minutes remaining in the game, California led, 41-32. Wisconsin managed to

Kentucky, NC, Auburn Win Tourney Crowns

By the Associated Press

The holiday tournament, college basketball's cash-lined year-end showcase, progresses from the hectic to the frantic stage this week.

No fewer than a dozen major tournaments will be under way within the next eight days.

Three big ones last week-end established Kentucky, North Carolina and Auburn as bonafide members of the nation's elite.

Thirteenth Straight

Kentucky, defending NCAA champ, ran its record to 8-0 and 13-0 stretching back to last year, by sweeping past Ohio State, 95-76, and then West Virginia, 97-91, in the Kentucky Invitation tournament at Lexington.

North Carolina, back to the top after a hasty rebuilding job by Frank McGuire, bagged the Blue Grass tournament title in Louisville, clipping previous unbeaten Northwestern in the final, 78-64.

Auburn boosted its winning

Willey Selected Braves' Leading Rookie of 1958

Milwaukee — (U) — Pitcher Carlton Willey was chosen Saturday as the Milwaukee Braves' outstanding rookie of 1958.

The 27-year-old right-hander was the unanimous selection of members of the Milwaukee chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Willey joined the Braves in mid-June, started 19 games, finished nine of them and compiled a won-lost record of 9-7.

He pitched four shutouts and led all the Braves' hurlers with a splendid 2.64 earned-run average.

The pitcher from Cherry field, Maine, will be awarded a plaque at the Baseball Writers' sixth annual Diamond dinner here Jan. 25. Another honor at the Diamond dinner will be the presentation of the Manning Vaughn trophy to southpaw Warren Spahn, chosen the Braves' most valuable player of the year.

Aussies Should Retain Cup, Says Hopman

Richardson May Be on Sidelines In Challenge Round

Brisbane, Australia — (U) — Harry Hopman, Australia's wily Davis cup captain, saw the United States rout Italy in the interzone final over the weekend in Perth, but he was far from impressed.

"Australia should hold the cup," the veteran tactician said complacently. "No doubt the Americans will improve in the next 10 days, but so will Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson."

Hopman, who brought the cup back to Australia in 1951 and has seen it go overseas just once since, began formal preparations for the challenge round next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by sending his team of Cooper, Anderson, Neale Fraser and Rod Laver through a light workout.

Smiles Broadly

Perry Jones, 70, U.S. captain, smiled broadly when told of Hopman's optimistic forecast.

"My own confidence is in no way shaken," he smiled. "I still am not prepared to announce who will play our singles, but I'm not worrying too much."

Jones may have made up his mind, but to most observers he does have a problem. His No. 1 player, Ham Richardson, has been unimpressive, and could wind up on the sidelines in the challenge round.

Barry McKay, who substituted for him when the interzone final was decided, licked Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli, 6-4, 3-6, 5-7, 6-6, 6-6 in one of the two final singles Sunday. Alex Olmedo won the other, downing Orlando Sirola, 20-18, 6-1, 6-4 for a 5-0 U.S. sweep.

Just how impressed Jones was by McKay's play, he wouldn't say.

Barry, who was dropped from the first team in favor of Olmedo a week or so ago, showed signs of brilliance against Pietrangeli. But he had trouble keeping his big service under control and was upset by some questionable line calls.

Olmedo, who practically carried the doubles burden alone when he teamed with Richardson, is assured a spot against the Aussies.

Richardson is not happy over the talk. He is a diabetic and was not feeling well during the doubles.

5 Badgers in Post-Season Grid Games

Kocourek, Teteak, Williams, Hobbs in Two Tiffs Each

Madison — (U) — Five University of Wisconsin football players, all seniors, will participate in post-season grid attractions.

Ed Dave Kocourek will play in the North-South Shrine game at Miami Christmas night and in the annual Senior bowl game at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 4.

Guard Jim Fraser will play for the Blues in the annual Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., Saturday.

Center Dick Teteak will play in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco Saturday. He then will travel to Honolulu for the annual Hula bowl game Jan. 4.

Quarterback Sidney Williams and fullback Jon Hobbs will join Teteak on the East squad in the East-West game, then will play in the Optimist bowl game at Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 3.

Mill Bruhn, Badger head coach, also is busy with post-season activities. He is an assistant coach for the East squad and will head up the major college All-Americans against Little-Americans in the Optimist bowl tilt.

Loyal and Noisy Colt Fans Finally Have Found Their 'Next Year'

BY GEORGE BOWEN

Baltimore — (U) — "Stick with those Colts!"

During 10 football seasons, this has been Baltimore's version of the "Wait Until Next Year" solace from one fan backing a loser to another.

Baltimore fans did stick. And this is "next year."

"I knew it was a nutty town over pro football," commented Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers. "But I didn't think it was that nutty."

Never Stops Playing

The Colt band never stopped playing. During the two years the city had no pro franchise, the 80-piece organization — including teachers, policemen and taxi drivers — stayed intact by hiring out for such jobs as the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City.

Besides the band, there is a corps of majorettes and one of cheer leaders, about half of them married women.

Some 6,000 Colt fans made one game. Average attendance dropped to 15,832, and it cost Baltimore its franchise.

The franchise came back in 1953 and the average climbed to 28,000. Attendance has gone up steadily since to a bellingering 53,460 the past season.

It was St. Mary's ninth win in ten starts, the only loss being a 55-54 setback at Marinette.

Chuck Lueck coined 13 points and Lou Captain 12 and Captain turned in his best rebounding job of the season for the victors.

In a preliminary to the St. Mary-Lourdes struggle — a St. Mary sixth and seventh graders intra-squad contest — the Blues shaded the Golds, 30-29, in an overtime. Steve Crabb hit 13 for the Golds and Tim Garvey had 12 while Tom Zanzig tossed in 12 for the Blues.

Pietrosante, Ecuyer Critical About Dismsal of Brennan

Santa Clara, Calif. — (U) — "I think it's a pretty rotten thing," Notre Dame fullback Nick Pietrosante said Sunday night about the firing of his coach, Terry Brennan.

"I don't think the firing was called for," Irish guard Al Ecuyer added.

Both expressed surprise to newsmen. "You're kidding," said Pietrosante.

Both are training with the East team for the annual Shrine East-West game Saturday at Kezar stadium in San Francisco.

"They don't know what they did to themselves," Pietrosante continued. "They shouldn't have done it. They didn't give him any of the breaks. They expect too much of a team that has to play a schedule like ours."

"I feel real bad about it," said Ecuyer. "Things didn't turn out as well as we expected. We had several close games."

The St. Louis Hawks keep winning and the Philadelphia Warriors keep losing. But there's a new wrinkle in the National Basketball association today.

As the Knicks began Sunday's nationally televised game with Syracuse at Madison Square garden, they noted that Dan Biasone, Syracuse president and general manager, was sitting on the Nats' bench.

Stays In Effect

They made the official protest at the opening tap-off and kept it in effect despite their subsequent 108-94 victory. The Knicks say NBA rules prohibit the presence of anyone but coach, players and trainers on the bench.

Ken Sears and Willie Naulls made the difference for New York. Naulls scored 26 points and Sears 23. Syracuse's Dolph Schayes, the all-time high scorer of the NBA, set a career field goal mark of 4,099 by hitting six. George Mikan, the former Minneapolis ace, held the record of 4,097.

St. Louis, stretching its Western division lead to six games, over idle Detroit, whipped Philadelphia, 98-86, in Sunday's other game.

The Sunday victory left the Knicks two games behind first place Boston in the Eastern division after Saturday's 135-106 drubbing by the Celts. Syracuse lost 121-120, in overtime to Cincinnati Saturday.

'Sugar' May Fight Downes

London —(AP)— British Boxing Promoter Jack Solomons said Sunday "Sugar Ray Robinson is conditionally prepared to defend his world middleweight crown against British Champion Terry Downes.

"The condition," said Solomons, "is that Robinson retains his title in his return contest next year with Carmen Basilio. Sugar Ray says he will talk business if he does. The fight would be in London."

With New York's Defenses tighter than a drum, Cleveland didn't have many chances to score against the Giants Sunday. This snuffed out the Browns' best threat. Quarterback Milt Plum tosses a pass intended for Darrel Brewster, but Giant guard Sam Huff makes a leaping interception on the Giants' 6-yard line. Others shown in this fourth-period play are: Browns' guard Jim Ray Smith (64) back Jim Brown (32), Giants, back Jim Patton (20) and tackle Dick Modzelewski (77). The Giants won, 10-0.

Boxing's 'Old Brown Panther' Harry Wills Dies of Diabetes

New York —(AP)— The "Old Brown Panther", who received $50,000 for not stalking Jack Dempsey, is dead at 66.

Harry Wills, one of the heavyweights who lighted boxing's star-studded sky during the Roaring Twenties died Sunday night in Jewish Memorial hospital from diabetes.

Wills, who earned the tag "Old Brown Panther" because of his smooth, lithe feinting and sidestepping motions in the ring, had more than 100 recorded fights. He was known long after he ended his ring career in 1932 for his gruelling, month-long diet sessions.

But the most famous bout for which he signed was the one with Jack Dempsey that never came off. The New Orleans-born Negro later claimed it was the racial issue that caused Dempsey's lawyers to forfeit the champ's $50,000 purse.

The fight had been boomed for years, but Dempsey's camp managed to sidestep until Wills fought a 12-round no-decision brawl with Luis Angel Firpo in September, 1924, in Jersey City. Earlier, Firpo had knocked Dempsey right out of the ring.

That Firpo fight brought Wills a $150,000 purse, his largest payday ever. Most ringside observers agreed that Wills had the best of Firpo.

Wills' career began in 1911 in New Orleans and spanned 21 years. Twenty-two of his fights were with Sam Langford, another of that generation's great heavies.

fense. With Sam Huff backing up the middle—taking dead aim at the great Jimmy Brown—and Cliff Livingston and Harland Sware adding their brawn as linebackers, Cleveland made only 24 yards rushing. Jimmy Brown, who set a league record with 1,527 yards in regular season play, was held to eight yards in seven carries.

Badly Rushed

The alert deep defense of Lindon Crow (he intercepted two), Carl Karilivacz, Jim Patton and Em Tunnell turned in an excellent job when Cleveland's badly rushed passers took to the air. Milt Plum, who was injured in the first half, and Jim Ninowski completed 10 of 27.

But all the defense in the world wouldn't have helped the Giants if they hadn't been able to score. The only touchdown was a tricky thing on a frozen field, an 18-yard play late in the first period.

Conerly took the ball from center and handed off to Webster coming around from right halfback. Webster gave it to Gifford, reversing from his left halfback spot. Gifford cut through the right side of the line to the 10 and then tossed a basketball-type lateral that carried about 15 or 20 yards to Conerly, who went all the way.

"I don't know when I scored before," said Conerly, the 37-year-old quarterback from Ole Miss who has thrown 144 touchdown passes in his pro career.

"It was something new we put in this week," said Conerly. "The lateral on the end was optional. I'm out there and he (Gifford) knows I'm there."

The Giants' other points came on Summerall's 26-yard field goal, set up by a 35-yard pass from Conerly to Bob Schnelker.

Jimmy Brown simply was defended right out of the ballpark, with Huff his particular tormentor.

"That's the end of Brown for this year and am I glad," said Huff as friends crowded around his locker.

In the other clubhouse, Jimmy had no excuses. "They just played even harder than last week, more determined," he said.

Coach Paul Brown, whose Browns were blanked for the first time since 1950 and beaten three times by the same team for the first time in any one season, was generous with praise.

"You saw a fine team today, men," he said. "It was a tough, hard nosed game. We were just overpowered in the line. They had a full head of steam up. We had to pass and it had to be excellent. We weren't excellent."

One Cleveland Threat

Coach Jim Lee Howell, already "scared to death" about the title game with Baltimore, couldn't say enough in praise of Landry's work with the defensive unit.

"They played the best defensive ball I ever saw a club play against a real good team," said Howell.

Cleveland's only real threat came in the second half. After recovering Don Maynard's fumble of a punt, they moved to the 4 before the defense ganged up on them. Pushed back to the 16, Plum's pass was intercepted by Huff on the first play of the fourth period.

The action became bitter at times. In one flare-up Mel Tripplett, the Giants' fullback, was tossed out of the game for throwing a punch or two after an altercation with Don Colo and Don Paul.

Students Offer Christmas Plays At Brillion

Brillion — On the last day of school in 1958 students at St. Mary Catholic school presented Christmas plays.

Recitations were given by the first and second graders under the leadership of Sister Marcia.

An original play was presented by the second and third graders. The director was Mrs. Clem Mancoski.

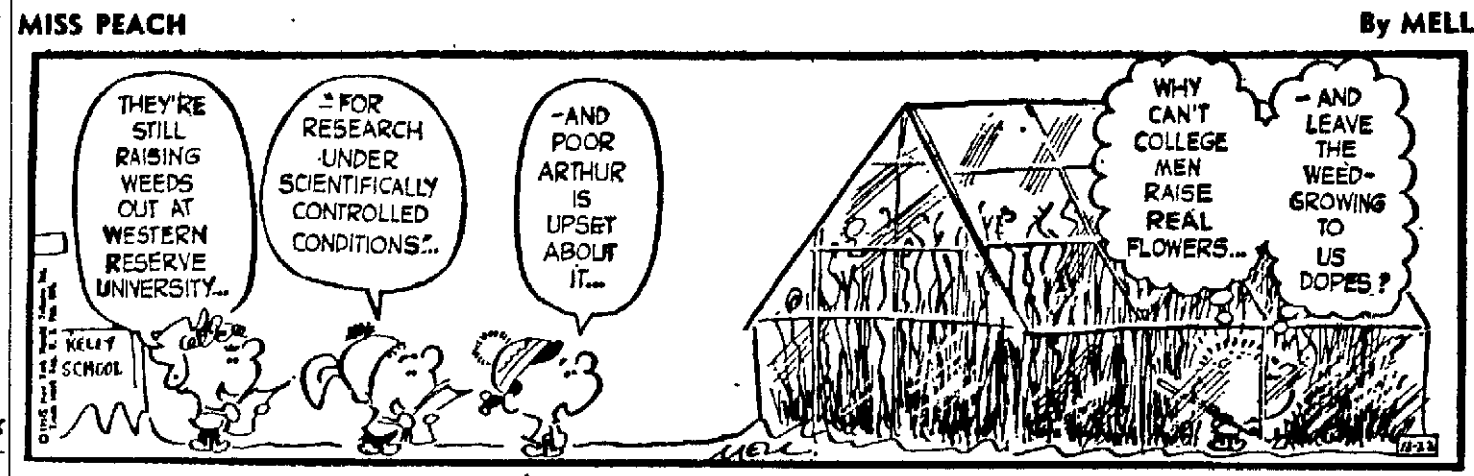

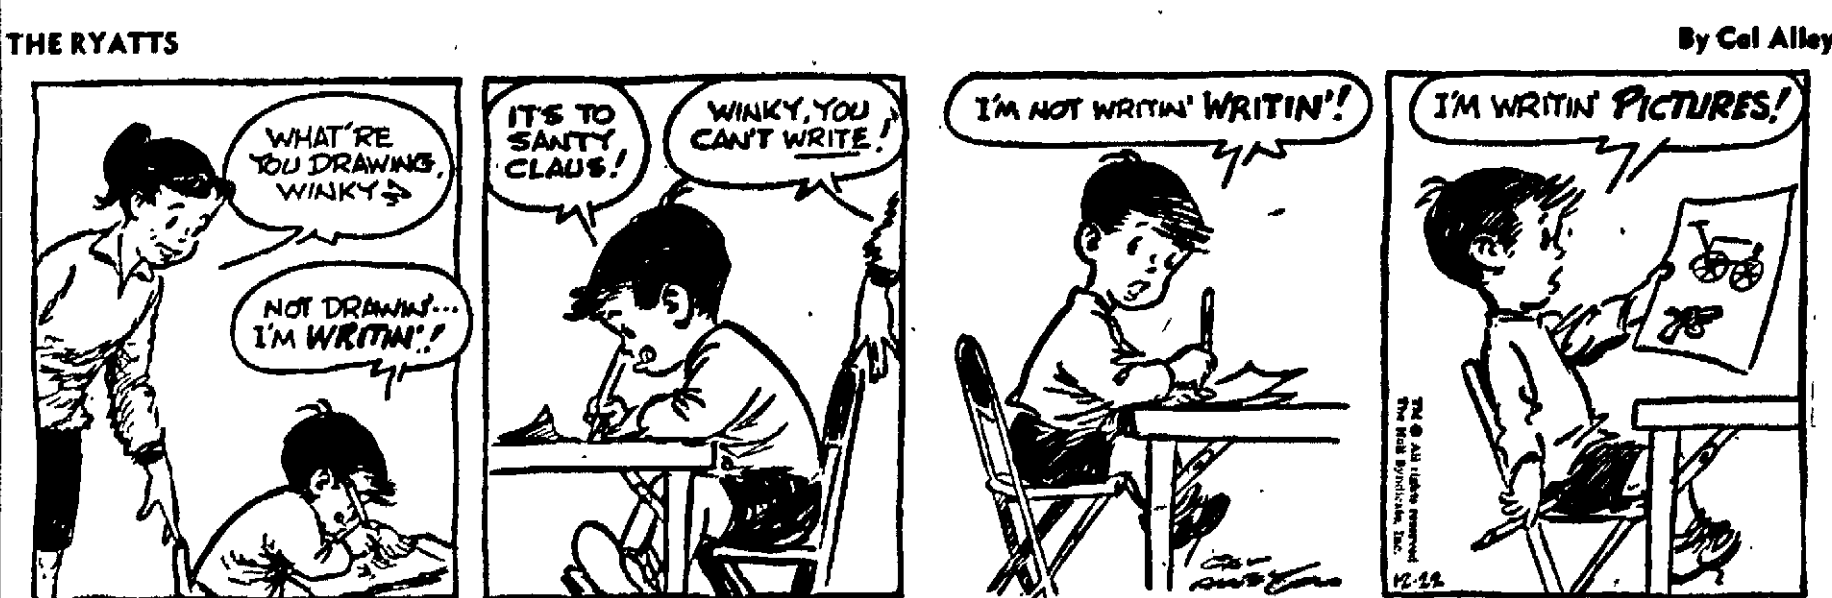

Forty-three students of the third and fourth grade took part in the play, "Littlest Angel." Ellen Haun took the lead role. The play was directed by Mrs. Howard Thiessen.

Cheryl Dohr and John Brockman took the main parts in the play, "First Christmas," given by the seventh graders under the leadership of Sister Anthony Marie.

Wichmann's

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words Often Missed: The words RESTLESS and RESTIVE are not altogether synonymous. "Restive" is most commonly applied to a horse, and means balky. As applied to persons, it means fretting under restraint; as, "a restive audience." "Restless" means untrusting, or disinclined to rest; fidgety.

Often Missed: Haydn (famed Austrian composer). Pronounce high-d'n.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: malignity; hatred; ill-will; state of being discontented. (Accent second syllable). "His hatred for the man had grown until it was destructive in its force and could only be called malignity."

Russ-Western Deadlock on Berlin Leaves Initiative in Red Hands

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

At this point in the NATO conference in Paris there is a deadlock between Russia and the allies on all aspects of the German question. We refuse to discuss Berlin except as part of a discussion of the future of Germany. Everybody on both sides is standing firm. But, as things are now, the initiative in the next moves is in Khrushchev's hands. It is the loss of the initiative which we should take very seriously.

For having the initiative, he is able to maneuver, making all sorts of small but resounding moves, none of them important enough to justify a forcible reply by the west. Suppose, for example, that he begins by ending the Soviet military occupation of East Berlin. It will be impossible for the west to demand that the Red army reoccupy East Berlin. We cannot be in the position of insisting that the Red army occupy some territory from which it is willing to withdraw.

Suppose Khrushchev turned over his powers to the East German government, and we find that as our trucks arrive at the check points, there is waiting for us there, instead of a Soviet official, an East German official to look at the documents and to stamp them so that the truck can proceed.

Just as we cannot say to the Russians that they must keep their army in Berlin, so we cannot say that we will not allow our papers to be stamped by an East German official, if he is doing nothing to interfere with our free access to West Berlin.

Defensive Policy

Because the Russians have the initiative, they can use cat-and-mouse tactics at Berlin, and, without any overt act of violence, they can confuse and weaken the whole position of the west.

The Adenauer-Dulles policy is purely defensive, and in a diplomatic struggle as in warfare itself, a defensive strategy without the prospect of a break-out, is demoralizing.

What is more, the policy of standing pat on the German question—which is in fact the policy of Dr. Adenauer and of a Soviet official, an East German official to look at the documents and to stamp them so that the truck can proceed—high probability that the West German forces would then be sucked in, bringing NATO and the Soviet Union to an open clash.

I think it likely that the fear of such a crisis in Germany is the main, not the only, reason why Khrushchev has posed the Berlin problem at this time, that is to say before all the problems of West German rearmament have been definitively settled. It is true, as so many say, that West Berlin presents an annoying contrast to East Berlin. It is also true that this contrast might help to provoke the kind of uprising in East Germany which might be uncontrollable.

Stay In Berlin

We in the west have an interest in maintaining our presence in West Berlin. On the ground of our honorable commitments, on the ground of our political interests, on the ground of general European security, we have to maintain our presence in Berlin in order to make sure that Berlin becomes a capital of a reunited Germany. But we have an interest, also, in getting a settlement of the whole German question before there is in East Germany a popular outbreak which could lead to a great war.

To protect these interests we need to regain the initiative, and instead of reacting to Khrushchev's actions we need to compel him to react to ours. There is a way to do this. But it involves, as any bold forward strategy does, risks.

The initiative can be regained by challenging Khrushchev to show that he will in fact permit the two German governments to negotiate a plan of German reunification. He is always saying that this is what he wants. But is he prepared to go through with it, if, instead of rejecting his offer, we took him up on it?

Risks of Acting

What are the risks of such a move? Perhaps the greatest risk, which may for the time being be too great a risk, is that it would damage severely Dr. Adenauer's prestige in Germany. He has been ardent in opposition to the idea of a negotiation by the two Germanys. But just under the surface, the idea has wide support in West Germany, even in his own party, even in his own government. Yet he is almost certain to resist the idea to the end, and the United States is too deeply committed to force such a change of policy on the grand old man.

Nevertheless, if there is any

Quick Action Avoids Serious Farm Blaze

Brillion — Quick action on the part of Mrs. Hilmer Kuckenbecker avoided a serious fire at her farm on route 1, Brillion, four miles northwest of the city.

Mrs. Kuckenbecker noticed smoke coming from a barn window and immediately turned off the switch to an electric fence before calling the fire department and pouring water on the blaze.

Fire Chief Oscar Belke stated the fire evidently started in an electric fence unit used to control pigs on the west side of the barn. The unit was installed in the barn and a wire led through the window to the outside. Moisture caused a spark to arc across the frame of the window and start the fire. Damages amounting to approximately $100 were covered by insurance.

other way of dealing with the German question, which includes Berlin, I wish somebody in authority would say what it is. Everybody knows that the two Germanys cannot now be integrated by the old formula of free elections, not only because the Kremlin will not permit it but also because neither of the two Germanys is willing to accept the troubles which integration would now cause.

There is reason to doubt where Russia, if it were put up to her, would in fact agree. If Russia does not agree, we would at least have the initiative and the preponderant moral influence in Central Europe. If she did agree, there is no reason to suppose that the West Germans, with their greater numbers and greater wealth and power, are incapable of negotiating successfully with the East Germans.

Police Set Up Plan to Curtail Bomb Scares

School Officials Join in Effort to Control Problem

Kaukauna — Police Chief Harold V. Engerson in cooperation with school officials has taken steps to curb pranks which have been causing false bomb alarms.

The system adopted by local police makes it possible to check schools in a matter of minutes without interrupting classes.

Schools have a man inside the building during the nights and police check windows and doors at each school every hour through the night. This double check will enable police to know very early whether forced entry has been made into any of the buildings.

Classroom doors and inside doors leading to boiler rooms, closets or other storage areas are kept locked when not in use, thus making it impossible for anyone to place bombs in these remote areas. Strict adherence to these rules makes it possible for easy searching of main halls in schools should an alarm be made.

Kaukauna had a bomb scare early this month which forced curtailment of classes at the high school for one morning. School officials have indicated students would be made to attend classes some Saturday morning to make up for the half-day lost. Police are continuing to investigate the fake call received.

Special Hours at Kimberly Library Over Holidays

Kimberly — Special hours have been announced during the holidays at the Kimberly public library, according to Mrs. Elaine Mc Cann, librarian.

This evening and Monday, Dec. 29, the library will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. and these will be the only night hours throughout the holidays.

Hours Dec. 23 will be 12 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m. while on Dec. 24 the 9 to 12 a.m. hours will be observed. The library will be closed Christmas day. Regular hours of 9 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m. have been set for Dec. 26, 27, 29, 30 and 31.

The library will be closed New Year's day and Jan. 2 and 3 the hours will be 9 to 12 a.m. and 2 to 5 p.m.

Red Cross Worker to Address Kiwanis Club

Little Chute — A representative of the county Red Cross chapter will speak to the Kiwanis club at the dinner-meeting at 6:15 p.m. tonight at McCabe's Restaurant.

Plans will be made for the installation of officers Jan. 19 and the polo drive next month.

Betty Cutler in 515 Series at Little Chute

Little Chute — Betty Cutler rolled a 515 series for the top honor count in the Big Leagues Mixed league at the Recreation alleys.

The Braves are currently in first place with a 19-2 record while the Cubs are second, six games off the pace. The Dodgers are third only one game out of second.

Chuter JVs Trip Springs

Hold Fondy Team In Last Half For 41-33 Win

Little Chute — St. John High Jayvees rallied in the last half to defeat St. Mary Springs at Fond du Lac by a 41 to 33 count Saturday night.

The victory pushed Coach Rog Vander Wyl's squad record to 7-2 for the season. The Dutchmen lead the Fox Valley Catholic conference Jayvee teams with a 3-0 record.

St. John trailed to 4 at the end of the first quarter but came back with 15 points in the second period to knot the halftime count at 19 to 19.

The Dutchmen scored 11 in the third period while limiting the Ledgers to just three, one bucket and a lone free throw. St. John scored another 11 in the final period while Springs also connected for 11.

Bob Diedrich hit six field goals for 12 points to lead the Dutchmen while Dave Koss helped out with nine. For Springs, Tom Flesch was high with 13.

Water Tank Overflows During Fire

Kaukauna — Auxiliary pumps, thrown into operation whenever a major fire hits the city, overflowed the north side water tank Sunday during the fire that took the lives of six children of the Floyd Weyenagel family.

Two fire trucks answered the call and pumped 1,500 gallons of water through two nozzles to extinguish the blaze. The limited amount of water caused the overflow and formed ice on the street.

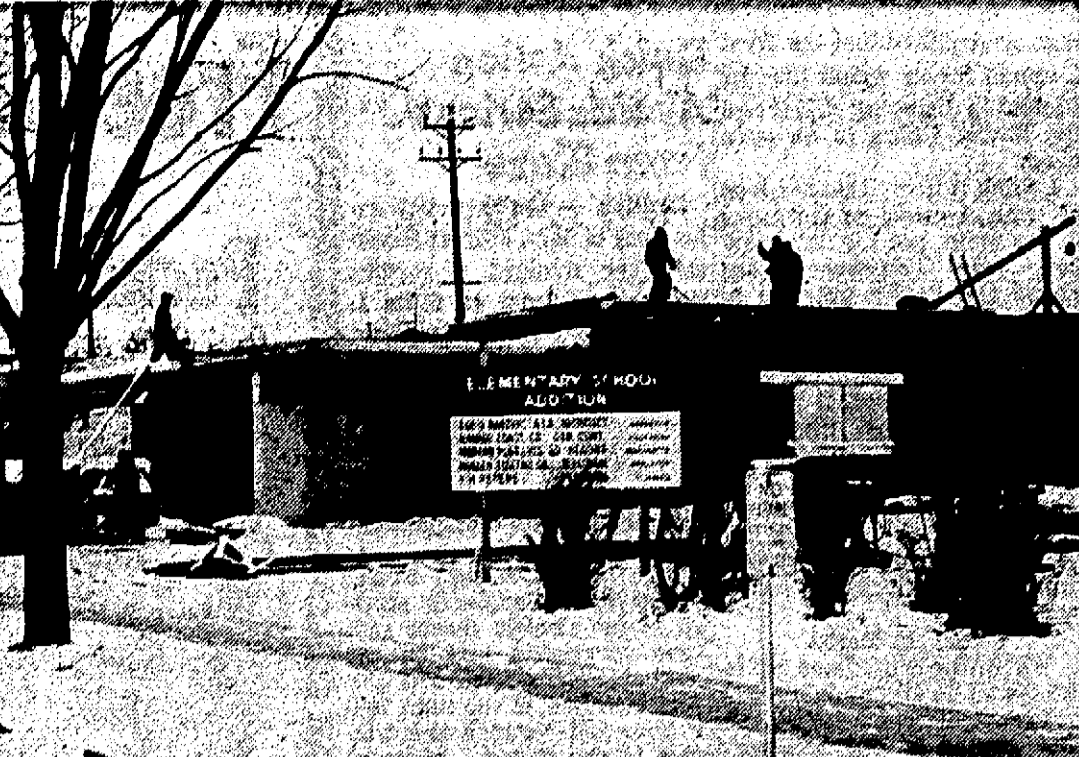

City crews sanded the street at the fire and at the tank. All off duty firemen were called to the scene to assist the department, the police, the deputy state fire marshal, the county coroner, sheriff and Little Chute police in fighting the fire and in the investigation that ensued.

Signs Erected At Parking Lots

Kaukauna — City crews have completed a project marking all free parking lots in the city.

Large signs notifying motorists of free parking space available have been erected at entrances to lots on both the north and south sides. All lots are located within two blocks of the business shopping areas.

The lots, formerly unmarked, were not being used by strangers in the city as many thought they were maintained for private use.

Despite the Sub-Zero Weather, work has continued on the $500,000 addition to the Kimberly public school. Workmen on the roof are coating it with hot tar. The structure is scheduled to be completed in time for the 1959 school term.

300 KHS Students Join in Youth Community Sing

Kaukauna — The annual Christmas community sing was held at the Kaukauna Youth Center after the Clintonville basketball game Friday night with about 300 students participating.

Student voices were loud and merry, possibly because their cage team had scored its first win of the campaign. A little of the volume may have been lost as a result of too much cheering during the game but all seemed to greet the sing with enthusiasm, according to center directors.

Solo selections were offered by Barbara Boyd and Nancy Bisel and several special Christmas numbers were presented by a girls' trio from the Kaukauna High school vocal department and a triple trio from the department.

Quartet Appears Fred Barribeau and Walter Schmidt, faculty members serving as directors for the youth center, arranged an appearance of the "B-Naturals," a quartet from the Kaukauna-Little Chute chorus.

The unit composed of Russ Jahn, Jacob Lamers, Keith Eifler and Robert Heckel sang several Christmas selections and were called back to do other traditional barber-shop numbers. Santa in the person of Mark Nagan appeared to surprise the students and Adrian McGrath, vocal director at the school, led the group in community singing.

Long Wait Pays Off for Employees

Princeton, N. J. — It's a long time from June to December but the wait paid off $67,000 to employees of the Kingston Trap Rock company.

They gambled on improved business for the quarry company and it will mean an extra $150 in pay. Last June employees of the firm demanded a 10-cent hourly wage increase.

The boss, Asa Farr, said no. "Business is down, we just can't afford it," Farr told Peter W. Weber, business manager of Local 825, operating engineers.

So they made a deal. If Kingston shows a profit at the end of the year, Farr said, workers would benefit. Okay, said the workers.

Kingston did make a profit. So for Christmas Farr is giving each of the 165 workers $150 as a Christmas bonus.

And that $150 comes out to about 10 cents an hour for each hour worked since June. Present wage levels were not available.

Consider Bomb—Should be Under U. S. Law, Bob Says

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

There's been a lot of talk lately about new legislation on a federal level to cope with bombings and other violence in civil rights disputes. Lyle Wilson, a pundit friend, posed a question the other day to the general effect that if local law is deemed sufficient to deal with bomb outrages in labor disputes, why isn't it also sufficient to cope with identical violence in civil rights disputes.

Wilson did not commit himself on this point. Neither has anybody else made much of a straight black-and-white portrait of the bomb business, which should not be confused with beatings, threats, property damage, theft and other hoodlumism.

Labor Sec. James Mitchell has said that federal law couldn't cope with all the allied nastiness of organized terror in the labor business, but that it should be left to the local jurisdiction. Wilson also quotes George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, as more or less going along with Mitchell, the while complaining that the local-level boys don't make too much effort to clean labor's stables. This would be an intimation that the local-level boys can be, as they say, got to, dealt with, or had.

Federal Job Leaving out all other aspects of violence, it is my idea that anything involving a bomb more lethal than that of the stink variety should be a federal responsibility, as much as kidnapping or crossing state lines or espionage.

Consider the bomb. Nobody ever made a bomb by accident. You cannot buy a bomb in a proper store. A bomb is useless to slaughter deer or duck. A bomb is not a weapon of self-protection, since it blows up the premises you're protecting. A bomb does not fit the clothing. In short, there is no excuse for a bomb unless you plan to blow up something with it, on purpose, and that argues a callous disregard for the innocent bystander. You can, at least, point a pistol with some degree of accuracy.

By deduction, I would venture that anybody who makes a bomb makes it with malice.

Forest Sounds

There's another record of the sounds of a tropical forest rain, if you're interested in that sort of noise. If you like cars, there are several road race records which treat you to the music of exhaust.

Buying records for anyone is a risky business, unless you know them very well or have been frank about it and said, "What do you want?"

Personal tastes may run from corn to classics, with all the specialties in between. Best advice is to ask, next best is to listen to what whoever you're giving to has in his collection.

Popular songs aren't so difficult — listen to the radio, scan the top 10 and you've got the titles.

Folk music is such a wide field that most collectors have to be asked what they want. Like many other tastes, music is a highly personal one.

KHS Alumni Set Holiday Dance

Annual Event to be Held Saturday at Hollandtown Hall

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High School Alumni association will sponsor its annual "Holiday dance" at Van Abel's, Hollandtown, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Faust, 1954 Kaukauna high graduates, are serving as co-chairmen for this year's event. The dance is staged to give young people home from colleges and universities for the holidays a chance to get together.

Although open to all alumni, it usually attracts mainly the more recent high school graduates. Music for the affair will be furnished by a local orchestra. Tickets are available from two drug stores in Kaukauna; at the hall or from members of the board of directors.

Directors include Mrs. Marvin Schuler, Joseph C. McCarty, Mrs. Leon Vanderloop, Robert Goetzman, Mark Van Lieshout, Eugene Lange, Robert Kindler, Jerry Klister, Norbert Noie, Miss Florence Brewster, Mrs. Carl Chopin, Mrs. John Mau and Joseph Sadler. Tickets are also available from the co-chairmen.

"The Happiest of Holidays to All"

JONATHAN

"And Saul, and Jonathan his son, and the people that were present with them, abode in Gibeath of Benjamin . . ."

—1 Samuel 13:16

Like his father, Jonathan—Saul's eldest son—was of athletic build and had great strength of arm.

He was also a skillful archer. This ability set him apart from most of the Israelites, who apparently possessed no proficiency in using the bow and arrow.

David, while lamenting the death of Jonathan's father, who was killed by a Philistine arrow, ordered that the children of Judah be taught the use of the bow.

In those days the bow was sometimes made of metal, and it required great strength to bend it. For that reason, archers often used their foot to help bend it as they pulled the bowstring.

It was this practice that made the prophets speak of "treading the bow."

Some Bible scholars think that it was because the Israelites were such poor bowmen that David had to use a sling to kill the giant Goliath.

It was soon after this historic feat that Jonathan became a close friend of David—a friendship that was to last all their lives.

To show his great attachment for David, Jonathan made a covenant (that is, he took an oath of undying loyalty). And to ratify it, he gave David, among other things, his dearest possession, his bow.

In all Scripture, there is hardly another character, save Jesus, who showed himself so unselfish, so ready to die for those he loved.

The days of his childhood were brief. And the powerful bow he had made to hunt in the hills beyond Jerusalem, became a weapon of war.

Accompanied only by his armor-bearer, he crept into the very camp of the enemy Philistines at night and boldly killed twenty of them before escaping.

At his father's side, he fought bravely at the bloody battle of Gilboah. There he died, a brave soldier, a trustworthy friend.

When David heard the news, he wept. "O Jonathan, thou wast slain in thine high places. How are the mighty fallen!"

Board Abandons Part of $224,310 Bellaire Park Development Plan

The park board has abandoned plans to seek privately-owned hillside lands to add to the Bellaire park improvement project.

It also has ended its contract with Madison Park Planner E. A. Petranek and hired Kenneth Schmalz, Darboy, to continue landscape work on remainder of the project.

Arthur W. Jones, board secretary, said 31 people signed three different petitions opposing conversion of their property to park.

Fifteen opposed handing over their hillside properties. There was fear the project might create a playground, skating rink or concession stand in the park, Jones said.

Another 11 specifically opposed development along the 100-foot-wide strip between a point just north of Pacific street bridge and the north end of the ravine.

The other four opposed development along a 25-foot-wide strip extending from the foot of Sampson street to the point where the strip enters the main ravine.

The petitioners represented about 15 per cent of the landowners whose properties abut the park and ravine.

Paid $1,553

The park board announced early this year it would spend $224,310 of George F. Peabody estate money improving the park, ravine and river front.

Board members subscribed to Petranek's idea of converting the deep, wooded ravine to grass, trees and shrubs, with a playground on the extreme north end and family picnic areas south of Pacific street bridge. Hillside areas were to be added where available, they said.

In the process, they said the would reconstruct Green Bay road to end in a turnaround, seek abandonment of Lemnawah street south of Opeeche street and widen holdings along the Fox river with fill material.

Additional privately-owned hillside land was to have been obtained either through gift or purchase. Petranek at the outset made some mention of condemnation.

Jones said Petranek was released from his contract because the lack of response by hillside owners curtailed need for his services. He was paid a total of $1,553.57, Jones said.

ground on city property just south of Rankin street at the north end of the ravine. It will include a ball diamond and usual play equipment, and may be turned over to the recreation commission as a playground.

Await Federal OK
Jones said the College-Candee high bridge contractors are seeking a road along the river bank for use by equipment and may help in reconstruction of Green Bay road. The contractors, he said, have agreed to furnish the fill for the river bank widening.

River bank work awaits federal corps of engineers approval. Abandonment of Lemnawah will require city council action.

Fill along the river bank will be placed in front of Bruce B. Purdy's property, but Purdy has agreed to an assessment, or sharing of costs, Jones said.

Work of cleaning various areas of trees and tangled growth is underway.

Yule Rush at Post Office Lessening

Holiday Mail Volume Down From Last Year

The Christmas mail rush at the Appleton post office is coming to a close, according to Francis Sumnicht, postmaster. Figures show the volume of holiday mail this year falls slightly below that of last year for the period starting Dec. 8 to now.

During Saturday and Sunday there were 152,000 machine cancellations compared with 107,000 for the same weekend last year. Outgoing mail, however, totals 1,360,000, 160,000 pieces behind last year's total of 1,520,000 for the same period.

This year there have been 2,310,000 units of incoming mail. This is down 140,000 units from the 2,450,000 during the same period last year.

Cites Suggestions

Sumnicht cited several suggestions for last-minute mailers that will help insure delivery by Christmas. He said transactions brought considerable handling for parcels insured priority handling in brokers said. At the same time, advisory service recommendations brought demand also gives the same service to selected issues.

Supreme Court Again Approves Bar Integration

Madison — The Wisconsin Supreme Court today repeated its approval of the integration of the Wisconsin bar, which requires every practicing lawyer to be a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin and to pay dues for its operation.

The court acted in approving a proposal of the bar for permanent establishment of the compulsory membership system.

Integration was established by court order two years ago, as an experiment which the court said it would review later to determine whether it should be permanent.

There are more than 5,300 Wisconsin lawyers affected by the decision.

Oil Shares Move Lower

Tax Increase in Venezuela Chief Reason for Dip

New York — Oil was jolted by news Venezuela is boosting tax and royalty payments of oil companies operating there. The stock market was moderately lower in active trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of leading issues went from fractions to about two points as prices slipped irregularly.

Oil shares backed away on the Venezuela tax increase on oil revenues to 60 per cent from 50. Creole Petroleum, subsidiary of Standard Oil (New Jersey), is most deeply involved in Venezuela and fell more than two points on the American Stock Exchange.

Jersey Standard dropped more than a point.

Royal Dutch and Gulf Oil fell more than a point each.

Continental Oil, a domestic producer, jumped more than a point.

Warm Trend Comes to Fox Cities

The official arrival of winter today was greeted by some of the warmest weather Wisconsin has had for weeks. Temperatures this morning were as much as 34 degrees higher than those reported early Sunday. Green Bay was the coldest spot during the night, with a minimum of 2 degrees below zero.

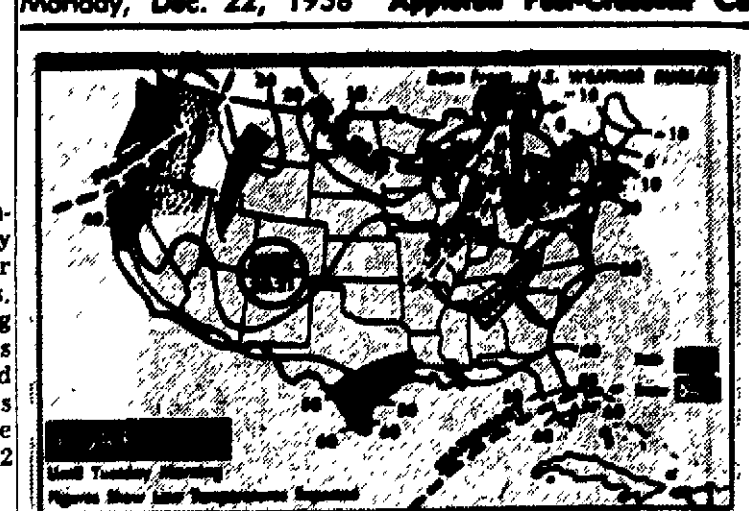

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company recorded 1 above zero at Appleton between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning. Thereafter the mercury continued to climb upward. It was 27 at 11 o'clock. The highest reading Sunday was 15 above.

The lowest temperature in the United States as winter arrived at 2:40 a.m. was 23 below zero at Lebanon, N. H.

Sunday's peak temperatures ranged from 23 at Pawauke to 11 above at Park Falls.

A few snow flurries fell near the Wisconsin - Illinois line and in the Superior region Sunday but elsewhere no precipitation was reported.

Skies were fair in the south.

Precipitation in the Form of Light rain, showers and scattered snow will be confined to the upper plateau region, with a few snow flakes forecast for western New York and western Pennsylvania and a few rain showers for the southern and eastern coasts of Texas. Relatively warm weather will dominate the eastern half of the nation and cooler weather will prevail elsewhere except for milder temperatures over the southwest.

Mrs. Foster Not Eligible for Work Benefits for Injury

Mrs. Hilda Foster, a cook who fell and was injured at the city home Dec. 15, 1957, is not entitled to workmen's compensation benefits, the state's industrial commission has decided.

The verdict was a victory for Hardware Mutual Insurance company, the city's workmen's compensation carrier, which has insisted the woman was not eligible because she was off-duty in her room at the home at the time of the mishap.

The verdict also means the city will have to pay hospital, doctor and salary claims of Mrs. Foster, probably totaling several thousand dollars. The city has some $3,000 budgeted for the bills.

Five New Programs Set BY NBC-TV, ABC-TV

Jack Webb Production, Western Move to Saturday Night Lineup During January

BY JINGO
Five new television programs are planned by ABC-TV and NBC-TV.

"The D. A.'s Man," a Jack Webb production about an undercover agent of the New York district attorney, takes over the Saturday night slot of "Brains and Brawn" on NBC-TV Jan. 3. "Brains and Brawn" folds.

"Black Saddle," the story of a post-Civil war gunfighter turned lawyer, replaces "Steve Canyon" Saturday night, Jan. 10, on NBC-TV.

"Steve Canyon" moves to the Thursday night time period of "The Ed Wynn Show," effective Jan. 8. Wynn's series had great promise at the outset but failed to attract high ratings.

"Alcoa Presents," a dramatic series based on unexplained experiences of actual persons, debuts Tuesday night, Jan. 20, in the spot held by "Naked City." No word of what happens to the crime series.

"Play Your Hunch," a guessing game, becomes part of ABC-TV's daytime lineup Monday afternoon, Jan. 5. It'll go into the "Mother's Day" spot, "Mother's Day" evidently ends.

That ABC-TV daytime lineup, by the way, was altered slightly today, with "Day in Court" moving from morning to afternoon.

Monday, Dec. 29, is the date for the start of converting the NBC-TV daytime serial "Today Is Ours" into the television version of the old radio favorite, "Young Dr. Malone."

"Young Dr. Malone" began as a radio serial in 1939. The six principal characters of "today" will continue on "Malone" through January as their story is completed and smoothly interwoven with the doctor and his family.

Rod Synnes, WFRV-TV's principal newsmen the last two years, has joined the staff of WTMJ radio and WTMJ-TV.

A Green Bay native, Synnes was a part-time staffer of WPG radio for seven years, announced for WHA radio at Madison while attending UW and served two years as a signal corps officer after UW graduation in 1954.

Jingo's Jewels: The finals of the 18th annual Bing Crosby Golf tournament will be telecast by ABC-TV from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 18. The same network has announced it will carry the college All-Star football game from Chicago's Soldier field Aug. 14.

Art Carney stars in Rod Serling's "The Velvet Alley" on "Playhouse 90" Jan. 22. The story examines the career of a middle-aged writer from its beginnings in a New York tenement to its explosive culmination in Hollywood.

First story of the "Shirley Temple" rebroadcasts on ABC-TV will be "Sleeping Beauty." It's planned for Monday night, Jan. 12. . . . Bob Hope's eighth Christmas entertainment tour for servicemen again will be filmed for presentation on NBC-TV as a special telecast. It's slated for Friday night, Jan. 16, in the "Man Squad" and "Thin Man" segments and will include a sketch starring Hope, Gina Lollobrigida and Yul Brynner.

"Youth Anonymous," a special, hour-long report on Detroit's battle against juvenile delinquency, will be telecast by ABC-TV Monday night, Jan. 19. . . . ABC-TV's Sunday morning show, "Johns Hopkins File," will begin a series of six special programs Jan. 4. Each episode will trace the life story of a person whose ideas were so powerful they changed the world. . . . Dana Wynter heads a cast which includes James Donald and John Baragrey, Lucretia Tuttle and Inga Swenson in Henry James' famed love story, "The Wings of the Dove," on "Playhouse 90" Jan. 8. It starts from young girl loves impoverished writer.

Singing star Julie Wilson makes her TV acting debut on Phil Silvers' Jan. 9 show. She plays a movie star who's in love with Sgt. Bilko. . . . Jeff Donnell and Neville Brand co-star in "Goodbye. . . But It Doesn't Go Away," the "Steel Hour" drama for Dec. 31. It's about a man motivated by insecurity and false values and of the unhappiness he brings his family. . . . Ann Sheridan, Darryl Hickman, Eduardo Ciannelli, Fay Spain and Gary Merrill star in "The Dark Cloud" on "Pursuit" Dec. 31. It's about a detective who arouses suspicion in a gangland slaying.

Hunters Claim Old Offer of Free Drink
Sheridan, Wyo. — (P) — In 1942 Joseph Skatula stuck a note in a bottle and left it in Big Goose canyon deep in the Big Horn mountains of northern Wyoming.

It said: "I'll buy a drink for whoever finds this."

Orville Wright and Darrell Shafer found the bottle during the big game hunting season this fall. They went to Sheridan and found Skatula. They got their drink.

Movies Looking for New Tarzan, 12th in Famed Role Since 1918

Elmo Lincoln First Jungle Lord in Hollywood's Oldest Acting Part

Hollywood's oldest and most durable role — that of Tarzan—is up for grabs again.

Gordon Scott, the 11th Tarzan since the early movie days, wants to do other roles. So Sy Weintraub, new president of Sol Lesser Productions, is looking for a muscle boy who can speak English, act and rattle lions and pythons.

The famous role has been a springboard both to fame and to oblivion. Some, like Buster Crabbe, Johnny Weissmuller, Lex Barker and Bruce Bennett, went on to other roles. Others disappeared as mysteriously as Charlie Ross or Judge Crater.

The first screen Tarzan in 1918 was Elmo Lincoln, who played leapfrog in the role with Gene Polar. They alternated in the part for a few pictures.

Fearless Stunt Man
Polar did not have an especially magnificent physique but had been a silent serial star and was a fearless stunt man.

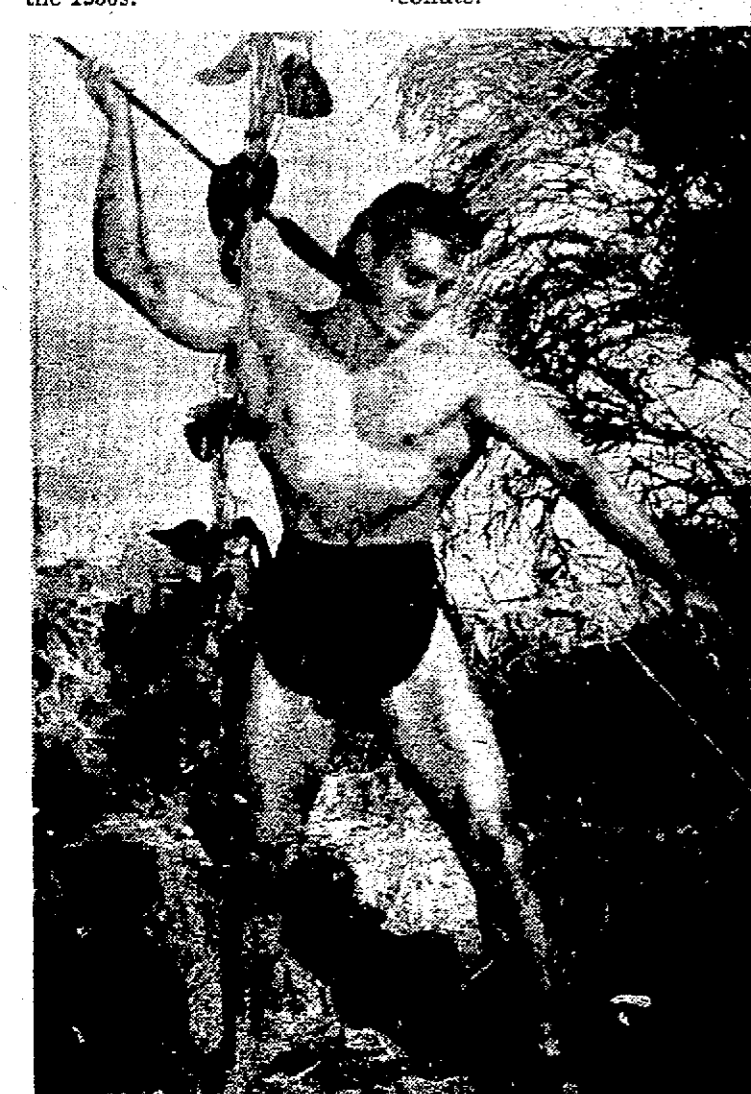

The next Tarzan, a man with the unlikely name of P. Dempsey Tabler, appeared in "The Son of Tarzan" and vanished. There is no record of his whereabouts.

Another one-shot Tarzan was James H. Pierce, son-in-law of Edgar Rice Burroughs, the author who invented the Tarzan jackpot.

One of the more unusual careers was that of Frank Merrill, who became Tarzan the Fifth. He appeared in pictures in 1929 and 1930 and later became a park commissioner and ran for city council in Los Angeles.

The next several Tarzans were real athletes: Weissmuller, the great swimmer; Crabbe, Olympic swimming champion; Herman Brix, 1928 Olympics star, and Glenn Morris, 1936 Olympic decathlon star.

Brix changed his name to Bruce Bennett and became a famous actor in dramatic roles. Morris faded away. Weissmuller played the role on and off from 1932 up into the 1950s.

Gordon Scott, Star of the Current "Tarzan's Fight for Life," has resigned the role because he wants to play other parts. Ideally his successor in the role should have his dimensions: height, 6 feet, 3 inches; weight, 210 pounds; neck, 17 inches; chest, 50 inches; biceps, 18 1/4 inches; forearms, 15 1/4 inches; wrist, 8 inches; thigh, 25 1/4 inches; calf, 17 1/4 inches and wingspread, 6 feet, 6 inches.

In 1933, Buster Crabbe, Olympic swimming champion, launched a successful acting career in the Tarzan role. Jaquelin Webb, and Cheeta the chimp here flank their lord.

Heirs Contest Paper Firm Head's Estate

Three Relatives Claim Executor Exerted Undue Influence Over George Woelz in '57

Heirs of the late George Woelz have begun a suit contesting his last will, claiming the executor of the estate exerted undue influence over Woelz.

County Judge Stanley A. Staidl, after hearing two days of testimony, has set Jan. 14 for the next session.

Woelz died at 77 Sept. 5 and was president and treasurer of Woelz Brothers, Inc., a paper firm founded by Woelz and his brother in 1920.

Four wills were made by Woelz—on Feb. 3, 1951; April 10, 1954; Jan. 5, 1957, and July 27, 1957. Each leaves the estate to trustees to be used for the benefit of Woelz' widow, Mae, 82, confined at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Name New Executor

However, the last two wills name George J. Bellow, 623 S. State street, as executor and increase his eventual share of the estate. Mrs. Lenore Lally, 716 W. Front street, Woelz' sister, John W. Lally, 2519 Frederick street, and Fred Holzknicht, Sr., Milwaukee, both nephews, objected to the last two wills. Holzknicht was named executor and-or trustee of the first two wills.

Under terms of the first will,

Schwabe and Haupt tentatively set a defective wall outlet or frayed lamp cord as the fire cause. Damage to the home was estimated at $12,250.

Cases Adjudged Against Liquor Store Operators

Cases against three Appleton beer and liquor store operators, charged with allowing minors to loiter on the premises, were adjudged today by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

The defendants were Clayton E. Templin, Templin's Beer Depot, 1115 N. Mason street, Donald Miller, Miller's Beer and Liquor Depot, 300 N. Richmond street and Emory Wirtz, Wirtz Beer and Liquor Depot, 508 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Schmiede granted the adjournment on condition the men are not arrested on the same charge during the next six months.

Tarpaulin Over Burned Roof Hole Set Afire By Chimney Sparks

A tarpaulin placed over a hole burned into the roof of the Edward Joel residence, 1019 N. State street, was set afire early Sunday morning by the same cause that set off the roof two weeks ago—sparks from the chimney.

City firemen said damage was negligible this time. The first fire, Dec. 6, resulted in about $400 damage.

Chief Neumann said the building's owner, Mrs. Leona Salin, has been under standing orders for sometime to have the roof replaced.

Bay Man's Death Leaves No Hint of Where $10,000 Is

Green Bay—Death of George L. Clarkieu, 58, Green Bay insurance man sought for embezzlement, was caused by a heart attack, but whereabouts of the more than $10,000 he is alleged to have embezzled remained shrouded in mystery today.

A coroner's jury at Carlsbad, N. M., returned the verdict of death by a heart attack after an autopsy was performed Saturday.

Clarkieu was found dying earlier Saturday in a Carlsbad motel by his traveling companion, Duane D. Hoepner, 23, Detroit, Mich.

Police questioned Hoepner extensively over the weekend, but Charles A. Feezer, district attorney at Carlsbad, said the young man apparently was not connected with any illegal activities.

He said Hoepner volunteered to remain in Carlsbad several days while his story was being checked out.

Brown County Dist. Atty. Robert Pettitjean said investigation of the Clarkieu case will continue with Dist. Atty-elect Alexander R. Grant handling details.

Pettitjean revealed that Clarkieu had only $20.18 on his person when found.

Reports Coming

Pettitjean added that his office expects a report next week from the Wisconsin department of taxation and the bureau of internal revenue on how much money was involved in the alleged income tax swindles.

Approximately 25 persons have reported to Pettitjean thus far that they received notices of failure to pay back taxes from 1953 to 1957.

The situation is mysterious, Pettitjean said, because inves-

Court Dismisses Bogus Check Case

Bogus check charges against Conrad F. Olm, 24, 112 1/2 S. Walnut street, were dismissed in municipal court Saturday after he promised to make restitution of $99.76.

There were five checks involved ranging from $1.60 to $55 cashed with local business firms and individuals.

Pettitjean said the investigation of Clarkieu's personal affairs indicated he was living modestly and that his house, car and furniture were mortgaged.

Clarkieu had checked into Carlsbad's Royal Manor motel three hours before his death. He was enroute to California and police said he apparently had been drinking heavily.

Pettitjean today confirmed the report of Carlsbad authorities that Clarkieu apparently left a trail of worthless checks across Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California.

Fred Kamke, Jr., 24, route 2, Shioclon, was taken to New London Community hospital about 1 a. m. Sunday after his car went off the road and rolled over on Highway 10 a mile east of Dale.

Kamke received a severe concussion, cuts and bruises, but was reported in good condition at the hospital this morning.

The car was demolished.

Dennis Crosby, Wife Parents of Infant Son

Santa Monica, Calif. — Dennis Crosby and his show-girl wife, Pat Sheehan, are the parents of an 8-pound, 13-ounce baby boy.

The baby was born yesterday at St. John hospital here.

Dennis, first of Bing Crosby's four grown sons to wed, made the groaner a grandfather last Thursday — but just by a technicality. He accomplished it by adopting Pat's 7-year-old son by a former marriage.

Dennis, 24, and Pat, who is 27, were married May 4 in Las Vegas, Nev., where she was a chorus girl.

Viyella is light, warm and utterly unafraid of water — a genius mixture of lamb's wool and Egyptian cotton. It never fades, bunches or gets itchy when wet. Viyella, in fact, is just about the perfect material for outdoor wear. And Hathaway cuts their Viyella shirts with full, roomy shoulders and generous tails that won't pull up out of trousers. Yet these fine shirts are as comfortable under a jacket as they are in the field.
